

Russians Outstrip U.S. In Missiles, Survey Indicates

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has nearly 600 more long-range nuclear missiles than the United States and under present plans the Americans won't catch up for five years, an authoritative British survey claimed today.

The International Institute for Strategic Studies also said in its annual survey that the Soviet government is developing four powerful new missiles that are far more accurate than those already deployed.

But the survey said that the United States has twice as many nuclear warheads as the Soviet Union, although Soviet warheads "are thought to be somewhat larger, on the average."

The survey said that China probably has 200 to 300 hydrogen and atomic weapons but is expanding its production facilities substantially. It said a Chinese intercontinental ballistic missile that could reach Moscow or

Alaska "may be ready for operational deployment."

Comparing the Soviet and American nuclear arsenals, the survey said the United States in July had 1,710 intercontinental and submarine-launched missiles, while the Russians had 2,295.

The report said the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has about 7,000 nuclear warheads, deliverable by a variety of vehicles and all ultimately controlled by the United States. It said there are about 3,500 Soviet warheads.

The institute said over-all military balance in Europe was little changed but Soviet manpower and tanks had increased. However, NATO forces are making "significant purchases of antitank guided weapons," it said.

The institute is a nonpartisan, nongovernmental research organization for the study of defense and other military matters as well as disarmament. Its membership and staff come from many countries.

Cost Of Living Spurs In August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices soared 1.3 per cent in August as sharp increases in costs of meats, clothing, mortgage interest and medical services led the biggest inflationary surge of the past 12 months, the government reported today.

The leap in retail prices, which works out to an adjusted annual rate of 15.6 per cent, was foreshadowed by near record wholesale price increases over the past two months and virtually assures continued high inflation through 1974.

President Ford's top economic advisers had said Thursday that the economy would remain sluggish at least through mid-1975 with no foreseeable relief in inflation expected in the next six to nine months.

The August increase lifted consumer prices 11.2 per cent above a year ago and further eroded the buying power of American workers.

Real spendable earnings—that is, take-home pay after deductions for taxes and adjusted for inflation—fell nine-tenths of a per cent last month to a level 4.1 per cent below a year ago, the Labor Department said. That was the lowest level since December 1970.

Detailing its price report, the Labor Department said Americans paid more for nearly everything last month with few exceptions. Among them were lower prices for fresh vegetables, poultry, fish and some non-food items, including gasoline which declined for the first time since last September.

In a related development, Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board told financial leaders attending one of President Ford's pre-summit meetings on the economy that there would be no further tightening of the monetary policy that has led to record high interest rates. Burns said, however, there probably would not be a major decline in interest rates—although some small decline is possible—in the immediate future.

The Consumer Price Index jump signaled a half billion dollar increase in pension benefits for federal government retirees and military personnel whose retirement benefits are adjusted to account for increases in the cost of living.

The 1.3 per cent rise in consumer prices last month, both adjusted and unadjusted, followed an eight-tenths of a per cent increase in July and was the biggest one month rise reported since retail prices rose 1.9 per cent last August following the lifting of the government's price freeze.

Sick, Poor Hurt By Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the nation's sick and poor have told the government they have suffered more than their share from inflation and need more federal assistance.

The 180 delegates agreed at Thursday's opening session of a two-day, economic minisummit conference that they rigidly oppose the Ford administration's attempts to cut the federal social welfare budget.

The conference is a prelude to the national summit conference Sept. 27-28.

The Ford administration had called them here so they might point out fat in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare budget, but they urged instead that HEW spending be increased to absorb spiraling prices.

"Tight money, restrictive credit and budget cuts have produced the current recession and the high and rising rate of unemployment," said the AFL-CIO's Bert Seidman.

He told one session, "If there is a need to bring federal spending and revenue into closer balance, the answer is not to cut federal expenses, but to expand federal revenues."

Leaders of about 60 major national organizations with a stake in the $111 billion HEW budget gave examples of how inflation has already hurt Americans: slum families moving three times a year to avoid eviction and changing their names to get gas and electricity, children starving on Indian reservations, and old people eating cat food and putting off medical care.

The delegates told the government that the young, old, sick and poor are already paying a higher price for inflation and they need more money now to bring them up to where they were before the economy careened out of control.

They warned that cutting HEW spending would aggravate crime, health, unemployment, and other social problems for years and perhaps even decades to come.

To finance higher HEW spending, many groups suggested tax revision to plug loopholes benefiting millionaires, investors, the oil industry and big corporations. They said this would bring in another $20 billion to $30 billion to the federal treasury.

"Tax reform is an absolute must," said Albert Shanker, new president of the American Federation of Teachers.

A coalition of groups proposed that, while social services spending not be trimmed, all other federal programs and particularly the defense budget, should be examined for possible savings.

Bloodmobile Visit Slated Tuesday

C. P. Pfeieger and members of the Rotary Blood Recruitment Committee are reminding Pickaway County residents that the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Circleville Tuesday at Community United Methodist Church.

Since two months have elapsed since the last visit all previous donors will be eligible to donate.

Many units of blood have been used during the past two months by Pickaway County residents. Relatives and friends of these patients are urged to make replacement donations, so that blood will be available for others when it is needed.

Donors should make an appointment by calling the Red Cross, 474-5736 in order to make sure of collecting the quota of 150 units of blood without hardship to the staff and to avoid a long wait in line. Walk-ins will be asked to wait until those with appointments are registered.

YMCA Gets Land For Center

SITE OF YMCA—Harold Hewitt, left, executive director of the Pickaway County YMCA, Richard Penn, YMCA Board Chairman, and William Smith, right, surveyor part of the 6.6 acres of land purchased by the YMCA as the location for the proposed YMCA family center.

The Pickaway County Young Men's Christian Association has acquired 6.6 acres of land within the city limits of Circleville, according to Board Chairman Richard W. Penn, as an eventual site for a YMCA family center.

The land is located on the east side of Nicholas Drive and is between the Nicholas Square Apartments on the north and the Circleville High School and Nicholas Elementary School property on the south. McHenry Ditch is the south boundary.

The location adjacent to both schools lends itself to future recreation uses.

Early predictions foretell an indoor swimming pool as a facility included in the YMCA plans. Logically, this could facilitate cooperative use of the pool between the YMCA and the school system, saving both members and taxpayers the cost of duplicating a pool.

The close proximity of the proposed YMCA and schools will also be a great savings in travel time for both parents and children.

The location is considered good, in that it will eventually be the geographical and population center of the city as growth patterns proceed in a northeasterly direction. Over one-third of the school-age children in Circleville attend the two close-by schools.

Break-Ins Disclosed In Watergate Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted a number of "surreptitious entries" or break-ins during the Nixon administration, according to once-secret testimony before the Senate Watergate committee.

The testimony, by former White House counsel J. Fred Buzhardt, disputes an assertion by former President Richard M. Nixon that such FBI activities had ceased in 1966. It raises new questions about Nixon's claim that a top-secret, intelligence-gathering plan he approved in 1970 was withdrawn before it was implemented.

The testimony was taken in executive session last May 7 and recently released.

During the questioning, Watergate committee investigator Scott Armstrong Buzhardt if he was aware "of any surreptitious entry or burglary performed by employees, representatives, or designees, in the U.S. government, in the Executive Office of the President, or of any campaign organization, other than (the Ellsberg and Watergate break-ins)?"

Buzhardt said he was aware of such break-ins, that they occurred since Jan. 1, 1969 and were performed by the FBI.

Buzhardt also said the break-ins were classified and he could not discuss them.

The Nixon lawyer went on to say that as far as he knew the break-ins did not involve reporters, political candidates or elected officials and were not financed with campaign funds as the Ellsberg and Watergate break-ins were.

The Watergate committee did not pursue the matter further because there was no indication that the FBI break-ins were connected to the 1972 presidential campaign, which was the focus of the committee's probe.

A spokesman for the Special Watergate Prosecution Force said his office was aware of the Buzhardt testimony. He reiterated that misuse of government agencies is one phase of the prosecutor's work but refused to say specifically whether the FBI allegations are part of that probe.

Asked about surreptitious entries, a spokesman for the Justice Department, the FBI's parent agency, said, "We don't do it." He had no comment on the Buzhardt testimony.

ROUNDTOWN

THE City Water Department advises residents in the following areas the water will be turned off 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday for the installation of a new fire hydrant on Town St.: from Town St. south to Crites Road and from Court St. to Washington St.

RABIES VIRUS has been discovered in a dead bat found in a tree on Watt St., according to the Circleville Health Department.

Department of Natural Resources personnel said the bat had been acting strangely before it was found dead Aug. 26.

The rabies virus was confirmed Aug. 28 at the Ohio Department of Health laboratory in Columbus.

Citizens of Circleville and Pickaway County are reminded that rabies strikes warm-blooded animals such as dogs, cats, skunks, foxes, raccoons, and bats, as well as humans. The disease is almost always fatal.

Strange-acting animals should be reported immediately to the health department or game protector. Pet dogs and cats should be immunized against rabies and restrained, if possible.

CROSSWALKS for pedestrians are being ignored by motorists, according to the number of complaints received by the Circleville Mayor's office and Police Department.

Motorists must yield the right of way to pedestrians when they are in a marked crosswalk area or face punitive action in Municipal Court, police warn.

The most dangerous area of town, according to police, is Nicholas Drive where cars most generally violate the posted speed limits and ignore pedestrians at the flashing-lighted crosswalks.

LOST a pony lately? A pony was found wandering in the road around the home of Dan Conley, Route 1, Mt. Sterling early Thursday morning. Conley put the animal on his farm so it wouldn't get hit by one of the horseless carriages.

If you lost the pony and can describe it, contact Conley at his residence on the Whiteside-Lister Mill Road.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new subpoena for Richard M. Nixon to appear in the Watergate cover-up trial is likely to hasten an official opinion on the former president's health.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski issued the subpoena for Nixon to make himself available as a prosecution witness on Oct. 1, the day the trial is to start, a spokesman said Thursday.

It was served by FBI agents at Nixon's San Clemente, Calif., estate at 8:50 p.m. EDT on Thursday.

Nixon, meanwhile, issued a claim of executive privilege in a move to keep his tape recordings from use in two civil suits stemming from the Watergate break-in.

Unlike an earlier subpoena issued by lawyers for cover-up defendant John D. Ehrlichman, the new summons for Nixon is likely to make an early issue of Nixon's health.

Ehrlichman is seeking Nixon's testimony on the alleged cover-up, but the defense is unlikely to begin its case until late October or November.

Jaworski needs Nixon's testimony early in the trial, sources familiar with the case said on Thursday.

The prosecutors need the former president to authenticate more than 30 White House tapes which they plan to play for the jury. The tapes include many conversations between Nixon and cover-up defendants.

Before the tapes can be admitted as evidence, someone must testify to their accuracy as recordings of real conversations. According to two lawyers not directly involved in the trial, in past criminal trials the only persons who can do that are those who joined in the conversations or at least were present when they took place.

In addition, lawyers say Nixon is probably the only one who can testify whether the tapes were tampered with in any way because he personally dictated who would have access to them as the Watergate investigations continued to unfold.

Nixon, reportedly planning to enter a hospital next week, is suffering from a blood clot disease called phlebitis. His lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, has acknowledged the former president has shown "serious signs of strain and physical fatigue."

Miller, as he has done in an unrelated civil suit in California, is expected to ask U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to quash the subpoenas seeking Nixon's testimony.

A legal clerk to Sirica, Todd Christofferson, said on Thursday that in cases where a defendant's or a witness' health is in question, the judge usually appoints a doctor to make an independent examination.

Christofferson said no decision has been made by Sirica on that yet, but the subject is likely to come up at a meeting between the judge and prosecution and defense lawyers next Tuesday.

Meantime, Nixon issued his executive privilege claims to quash subpoenas for the tapes in a civil suit filed by a Democratic party official whose Watergate office was bugged and in a suit by the Democratic National Committee against Watergate burglar James W. McCord. McCord had sought the tapes for his defense.

Plains Rains Hit Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain on the plains — lots of it — left flash flood watches and warnings in effect in various parts of the Southwest today.

Thunderstorms and showers also stretched from the Great Lakes through the central plains. Okeene, Okla., reported 5½ inches of rain and Tulsa had 4.3 inches in 24 hours.

Cloudy and partly cloudy skies covered most of the nation.

High water in the runways delayed flights at the Tulsa International Airport.

Fayetteville, Ark., was drenched in more than 2 inches of rain in six hours. Abilene, Tex., had almost 1½ inches and Roswell, N.M., received about ¾ inch in six hours.

Fog hung along the mid-Atlantic coastal states, reducing visibility to less than one mile.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 36 at Marquette, Mich., to 87 at Needles, Calif.

Weather

Considerable cloudiness with a few showers or thundershowers likely today, high, mid 70s. Clear and cooler tonight, low upper 40s. Sunny and cool Saturday, high near 70. Probability of precipitation, 60 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Thursday were: high, 82; low, 65.

Rockefeller's Worth Said $182.5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller puts his personal fortune at $62.5 million, but the head of a committee probing his vice presidential nomination is more concerned with what the holdings are than their total.

Rockefeller issued a statement on Thursday listing his personal fortune and saying he also receives income from two trusts with assets of $120 million.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said, "The significance of his financial holdings is what the holdings are in and whether there is a likelihood of a conflict of interest."

Cannon said the Rules Committee will question the former New York governor closely about some of his holdings.

Rockefeller issued a summary on Thursday of what he termed "the final and complete data" on his finances.

As aides had promised, the total was substantially higher than the $33 million personal worth figure that had leaked from the House and Senate committees preparing for confirmation hearings.

Including the $62.5 million in personal holdings, the statement declared that "total assets owned outright and in the two trusts amount to approximately $182.5 million."

The $62.5 million figure includes the $33 million listed earlier, some $20.5 million in art and real estate to be given away at his death and some $9 million representing updated appraisals of art and real estate that were unavailable when the first report was filed.

More details will be included in the opening statement Rockefeller will present to the Rules Committee on Monday.

Hearings before the House Judiciary Committee, which apparently is planning an exhaustive look at the Rockefeller fortunes, may be put off until after the November elections.

The Judiciary Committee is doing its own calculations of Rockefeller's net worth, and its investigators are not expected to finish until mid-October, about the time both House and Senate plan to recess until after the Nov. 5 elections.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's week-long rally faltered today amid apparent disappointment at a major bank's decision to hold its prime interest rate at 12 per cent.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 9.16 at 664.89, and losers held a 7-to-6 lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow had gained some 47 points since the start of the week, with the help of enthusiasm over softening short-term money rates. Expectations also evidently built up that New York's First National City Bank might cut its prime rate today, but the big bank said as trading began it would stay with a 12 per cent rate for the coming week.

Pan American World Airways was the Big Board volume leader, down 1/4 at 2 1/2% in trading that included a 292,300-share block at 2 1/2%.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up .12 at 66.22.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .38 at 36.25.

Houston Oil & Minerals was the Amex volume leader, up 1/4 at 13 3/4%.

School Operation Report Given Vocational Board

A report of the operations of the school to date was given to the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School Board Thursday by Ralph Neal, vocational director. Neal also outlined the PRIDE program for the board which allows for an evaluation system to be conducted by the staff members of all the home high schools as well as the vocational school staff.

The evaluation program is conducted through the cooperation of the local high school teachers and the State Department of Education officials.

Board approval was granted for the purchase of miscellaneous equipment and supplies requested by Neal.

Two transfers in the general fund were approved allowing an amount of $3,000 to be transferred from the fund for rent for administrative offices to a fund for supplies for the administrative offices to be used primarily for printing costs. A second transfer was in the amount of $10,000 from the fund for improvement of the site to a fund for the educational supplies.

A policy was adopted for the handling of student activity accounts and other internal accounts. The policy adopted by the board was in keeping with the recommendations of the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Audits.

The report from the architect revealed the status of the building and the areas which still need to be completed. Work is still needed on the fencing and the student lockers. The board approved a change order for the hook-up of some electrical equipment.

Concluding his report to the board, the architect explained the work yet to be done on the air conditioning and heating systems in the building. At present, the school is operating on a ventilation system alone.

Superintendent Paul Hydell advised the board that a security system was being provided during the weekends and personnel was at the building on a 24-hour basis during the week.

Approval was granted for a tree-planting plan that was worked out by the horticulture class. Cole Nursery has offered trees to be used in this plan.

The trash hauling contract was awarded to Scioto Haulers of Circleville.

An hourly rate of $7 was approved

Report 60 To 200 Dead In Storm-Stricken Honduras

GUATEMALA (AP) — Reduced to a tropical storm, Hurricane Fifi headed into southern Mexico today leaving at least 60 dead in northern Honduras.

The Honduran National Emergency Committee said ham radio reports that could not be confirmed indicated about 200 persons were killed or missing.

All of the dead reported were in Honduras, which the hurricane lashed on Thursday with 110-mile-an-hour winds and gusts up to 140 m.p.h.

The storm slammed into Belize (formerly British Honduras) on Thursday night and at midnight was over north central Guatemala. The Miami Hurricane Center said its winds had dropped to 60 m.p.h. and "it is expected to gradually lose identity later today as it continues westward into southern Mexico."

The populated area hit hardest apparently was around the Honduran town of Ceiba, on the Caribbean coast. The national emergency committee said 41 persons were killed there.

The committee said 12 more of the confirmed dead were children who were swept away by a flash flood in the small inland town of Progresso.

Guanaja, a small town on an island off the Honduran coast, was reported 80 per cent destroyed, and the town of Roatan, on a neighboring island, was about 40 per cent destroyed, officials said. But most of the inhabitants were believed to have been evacuated before the storm struck.

The U.S. Air Force ordered two small planes and two helicopters from bases in Panama to Honduras for a damage survey. The U.S. embassy in Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, said American relief planes were expected with generators, food, medicine, clothing and other supplies.

"The problem appears to be mostly that of hungry and homeless people," an embassy spokesman said.

Arabs Invest $7 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department reports that oil-producing nations have invested about $7 billion of their surplus revenues in the United States.

About $4 billion of that has been invested in U.S. government securities, with most of the remainder placed in commercial banks, officials said.

Several hundred million dollars "may have gone into corporate securities and real estate," Treasury added.

Treasury officials estimated that the oil-producing nations have accumulated $25 billion to $28 billion in surpluses in the first eight months of this year.

The department provided the figures to the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said the information on the surpluses is at best "a very rough guess."

Of the funds not invested in the United States, officials said about $2 billion may have been invested in Europe and $3 billion in the United Kingdom.

Another $3 billion may have been transferred to developing nations and to international lending institutions, according to the Treasury report.

Simon estimated that the oil-producing nations will have a total of $55 billion to invest during all of 1974.

Nuclear Reactor Costs Double

WASHINGTON (AP) — Estimates of the cost of building and operating the nation's first nuclear breeder reactor have been more than doubled by the Atomic Energy Commission. AEC officials said building the reactor and operating it for five years may cost $1.7 billion. Two years ago the cost had been estimated at $699 million. The reactor is designed to create more nuclear fuel than it consumes while generating electricity.

for teaching in the adult education classes and final approval was given to set up the pay periods on a twice a month basis. Presently, the district has been on a monthly paying procedure.

Ray Pack, coordinator of guidance, reported on the final enrollment of the school. At present enrollment stands at 476 and is expected to stay at that figure.

Students enrolling at the beginning of the year were given a two-week period in which they could change their minds and return to their home high schools. Pack also said that students moving into the district with evidence of completed hours in another district may transfer in to the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Center.

Board members Nelson Stevens and Homer Beath were appointed to represent the vocational board at the Ohio School Boards Association central regional annual meeting on Sept. 25.

In final action, the board agreed to change the regular meeting schedule from twice a month to a single meeting on the third Thursday of each month.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Saturday.

Aircraft Clips Electric Wires

A small aircraft, operated by Bill Dennis, pilot, Washington C.H., clipped some electrical wires, 11:42 a.m., Thursday, while dusting a field, owned by Charles Rivers.

According to the report taken by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Nicholas Franklin, neighbors heard a loud clap and observed a small white plane flying over the wires.

Dennis, a pilot for the Dennis Crop Service, Washington C. H., was flying a plane owned by the Mid-Ohio Corporation.

The electrical wires were stretched until they were hanging only eight feet above ground.

Dennis told authorities he was unaware of the low wires.

Elyria Residents Held For Holdup

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Three Elyria residents, including a bank teller, were being held today in Lorain County Jail on federal bank robbery charges, the FBI reported.

The FBI said two were 19-year-old roommates, Debbie Hushka and Cindy Ruble, the latter identified as the teller who handed over $6,600 in Lorain County Savings and Trust Co. funds last Friday.

Also charged was Gary Knisley, 22.

ORDINANCE NO. 85-75 AUTHORIZING BOARD OF PUBLIC UTILITIES TO ENTER INTO CONTRACT FOR ENGINEERING SERVICES OF WASTE WATER TREATMENT FACILITY BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE:

SECTION 1: That the Board of Public Utilities of the City of Circleville be and it is hereby authorized to enter into a written contract for Engineering Service, to provide basic service during construction, resident supervision and other engineering services required for the construction of a waste water treatment plant in accordance with plans, specifications.

SECTION 2: That whereas all funds for said contracts are to be provided by the Ohio Water Development Agency, there is hereby appropriated all funds that may be so provided for the purpose of the contracts.

SECTION 3: That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the City of Circleville and its inhabitants and for the further reason that a waste water treatment facility is urgently needed to avoid pollution of the waters of the Scioto River; wherefor this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and immediately after its passage.

Multitudinous Efforts

It is no longer true that everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it. According to the General Accounting Office, the auditing agency of Congress, no fewer than seven federal departments and agencies are actively working to find means of controlling the weather.

That is about six agencies too many, in the eyes of the GAO. Complaining that there is no effective coordination of the weather programs, the investigators concluded: "If potential benefits of weather modification research are to be obtained, action should be taken now to establish an effective national program with all agencies involved required to work toward achieving national goals and objectives."

Among the agencies budgeted for weather modification work in fiscal 1974 are the National Science Foundation ($6.6 million) Commerce Department ($4.2 million), Department of Interior ($3.2 million), Defense Department ($1.6 million), Transportation Department ($1.4 million) and NASA ($50,000).

If coordinated into one grand effort, all those programs ought to be able to create more than a storm of paper work. It's a case of getting all those people who are doing something about the weather together to talk about it.

Rocky's Great Legacy

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The Congressional committee looking into the whys and wherefores of Nelson Rockefeller's way of life, and his background, should have access to the following letter that was sent to him and his brothers by their mother almost half a century ago:

"Dear Sons:
"For a long time I have had very much on my mind and heart a certain subject. I meant to bring it up at prayers and then later have it for a question to be discussed at a family council; but the right time, because of your father's illness, has never seemed to come.

"Out of my experience and observation has grown the earnest conviction that one of the greatest causes of evil in the world is race hatred or race prejudice; in other words, the feeling of dislike that a person or a nation has against another person or nation without just causes; an unreasoning aversion is another way to express it.

"The two peoples of race who suffer the most from this treatment are the Jews and the Negroes; but some people 'hate' the Italians, who in turn hate the Yugoslavs, who hate the Austrians, who hate the Czechoslovaks, and so it goes endlessly.

"You boys are still young. No group of people has ever done you a personal injury; you have no inherited dislikes. I want to make an appeal to your sense of fair play and to beseech you to begin your lives as young men by giving the other fellow, be he Jew or Negro or whatever race, a fair chance and square deal.

"It is to the disgrace of America that horrible lynchings and race riots frequently occur in our midst. The social ostracism of the Jew is less brutal, and yet it often causes cruel injustice and must engender in the Jews a smoldering fire of resentment.

"Put yourselves in the place of an honest, poor man who happens to belong to one of the so-called 'despised' races. Think of having no friendly hand held out to you, no kindly look, no pleasant, encouraging word spoken to you.

"What I would like you always to do is what I try humbly to do myself. That is, never to say or do anything which would wound the feelings of the self-respect of any human being, and to give special consideration to all who are in any way repressed. This is what your father does naturally from the fineness of his nature and the kindness of his heart.

"I long to have our family stand firmly for what is best and highest in life. It isn't always easy, but it is worthwhile. Your mother . . ."

Nelson Rockefeller sent me a copy of this letter some time ago, at my request, with a covering note that read:

They'll Do It Every Time

"Mother's letter is a wonderful one and I'm delighted to send along the copy you requested. The sentiments she expressed have always been an inspiration to me and it is gratifying to know that her letter continues to evoke such a warm response in those who read it today."

Rocky was born in the "Sears Cottage," Bar Harbor, Maine, a handsome place his mother and father had rented for the summer from Washington Post publisher Edward McLean and his wife Evalyn, who later picked up a bauble named the Hope Diamond. His birthdate, July 8, 1908, pleased his fabled paternal grandfather. It was John D.'s 69th birthday. Rocky weighed nine and a quarter pounds, and was given the name of his maternal grandfather, Sen. Nelson Aldrich.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — You've heard of the problems involved in buying a single-family dwelling today. Prices are soaring. Mortgages are costly and difficult to obtain. And the selection is greatly reduced.

That aspect of the depressing housing situation has been widely publicized, not only through editorial accounts but by home shoppers who communicate their shock to anyone who will listen. Frustrated, they rent instead.

But even that recourse soon may be denied families because of another development in the crisis-prone housing market: a shortage of rental units is showing up in many of the nation's major housing markets.

In a survey of 17 major local markets throughout the country, the vacancy rate for modern rental units was under 5 per cent in more than half. In Washington, D.C., the vacancy rate was recorded at zero.

The study, conducted by Advance Mortgage Corp., a subsidiary of Citicorp, a New York holding company that also operates the First National City Bank, suggests also that the condition could worsen.

Normal apartment demand, explains Phillip Hendershott, senior vice president, is being swelled by families priced out of the single-home market. In addition, materials shortages are delaying apartment house completions.

Were financing more readily available, and at lower rates, builders might try to meet demand by constructing more units, but there are few indications they are doing so.

(along with the Morgans, Carnegies and Armours). Old John D. was a choice target of several of the first and best investigative reporters (called "Muckrakers" by Theodore Roosevelt) and political cartoonists, including Ida Tarbell, Lincoln Steffens, Upton Sinclair, Fred Oppen and Finley Peter Dunne. John D. became the world's first billionaire about that time, sole owner of the "Standard Oil Trust," which controlled 88,000 miles of pipelines, processed 68,200,000 barrels of crude a year, 4,000,000 barrels of lubricants, and owned a fleet of 78 steamships, 19 sailing vessels, and dominated such other big business as Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Uncle Sam (disguised as Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis) broke all that into smaller pieces, and Nelson's gentle father, John D. Jr., started giving it away. His sons do, too, but there is so much of it that Nelson's still got $33,000,000.

"Developers are not building to meet demand," Hendershott says. "Fewer permits for rentals will be issued this year than at any time since 1960, when apartment living was the pattern of only a few crowded cities."

Construction costs, he maintains, are running out of control, and loans available to builders are smaller and costlier. And, while rents have been rising, many builders seem to feel the return still is unattractive.

Most developers, Hendershott says, are hesitant to enter the market in the absence of the proper cue — either a big jump in rents or a decline in interest rates or construction costs.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

When we received our fall copy of "Vista", the Exxon travel club magazine, we were thrilled to see the article, "The Best Free Show on Earth — Ohio's Pumpkin Festival" in the magazine.

Being former residents of Pickaway County we know what the Pumpkin Show really is.

The article by Mr. Thomas described it thoroughly when he said, "Circleville becomes the center of America's greatest pageantry in the pumpkin patch during the third week of October."

We had the pleasure of visiting the Pumpkin Show last year and enjoyed it very much. Much to our sorrow we will not be able to attend this year. Best of luck for a bigger and better show this year.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When I read about a parent or a sister or brother donating a kidney to a member of the family I am always overwhelmed by this magnanimity. Can the donor be sure that one kidney will suffice him for the rest of his life?

Mrs. J.H.N., Calif.

Dear Mrs. N.:

The sacrifice of one kidney so that another human being can be given new life is a testament to true love.

Transplantation of kidneys from one member of the family to another is highly successful because of the absence of the problem or rejection of transplants. It is hoped that, before long, the problems of rejection will be solved. Then donor kidneys will be banked and used as life-saving gifts to people unrelated to the recipient.

The kidneys are organs of great complexity. The elaborate chemical plant within them makes manmade accomplishments shrivel into relative insignificance.

One healthy kidney can maintain normal body functions almost as well as two kidneys. Thousands of people are in perfect health after one kidney has been removed because of infection, tumors or inability to function.

Similarly, people who have donated a kidney are able to survive in good health with one normal kidney.

Sad Saga

By JIM BISHOP

There is, sadly, a difference between ambition and talent. I grew up with a cross-eyed kid who wanted to be a Marine marksman. Boys afflicted with claustrophobia or agoraphobia shouldn't study to be astronauts. None, however, surpassed Al Jennings of Kiowa Creek, Oklahoma Territory, who aspired to be a train robber.

This was a laudable goal in 1885, when Al was 20. He and his brothers Frank, John and Ed were cowhands who tired of following cattle that were casual in their habits. Respectable people didn't like to be caught downwind of the four Jennings boys.

So Al said, "Let's be robbers like Jesse James," and the younger pinheads thought that this was a capital notion. To rob a train all that was required was to ride a horse, find a train, fire a gun, and blow the mail car to splinters.

It did not occur to Al Jennings that his hero, Jesse James, dropped two gun belts to stand on a chair and straighten a picture on April 3, 1882. As a result, he never saw April 4th. Bob Ford, a bad'un, stood behind trusting Jesse and nailed him and the picture to the wall with four shots.

Jennings thought that he and his brothers should ease into robbery with a bit of practice. So they hammered out four U.S. marshal's badges and charged gullible ranchers a "toll" for driving cattle north to Dodge City. It worked, and they made five dollars here and ten there, but soon it didn't mount up.

Besides, some of the outraged cattlemen tried to draw on the Jennings boys, and they voted 4-0 that this could be dangerous to life and limb. So they rode north, heavy with guns, toward Fort Supply, looking for a train.

All the towns were fresh out of trains, but Al Jennings insisted that all they would have to do is to find tracks. Locate rails and trains couldn't be far behind. For sheer logic, this was shattering. Near what is now Woodward, Oklahoma, the Jennings boys found a R.R. John, Ed and Frank hid in the ditch as Al stood between the rails waving red drawers.

The engineer didn't even blow the whistle. He went right through Jennings, who barely got off the tracks in time. As Jay Robert Nash pointed out in his compendium of American criminals, "Bloodletters and Badmen" (M. Evans & Co.), on the second attempt the Jennings rode beside the train firing pistols in air.

The engineer grinned, waved thanks for the good show, and kept going. Al

Family donors are chosen only after extensive studies show that there is no infection and that there is little or no risk to the donor.

In the absence of an unforeseen problem, the donor can live out a normal healthy life, made happier by the fact that another's life has been revitalized.

I went to the druggist because I had a cinder in my eye. He saw it, but refused to remove it and sent me to a doctor. I thought it was unfair to have to pay for something that could have been done by the druggist in a second.

Miss R.F., Del.

Dear Miss F.:

Your pharmacist deserves your thanks rather than your annoyance. What seemed so simple might have been complicated had the eye been irritated during the removal of the cinder.

Foreign bodies that seem to be simple to remove may be deeply imbedded and need expert attention with special instruments and magnified light.

Had this happened you would have been more annoyed because your pharmacist did not send you to a doctor.

did some thinking. The only way to hold up a train properly, he said in a constellation of inspiration, would be to find one that was standing still.

The locomotives in the 1880s were wood burners, so, instead of hunting for more R.R. tracks, the Jennings boys cleverly sought R.R. tracks and a pile of wood. This required time and hunger. However, nothing beats ambition minus talent to insure failure. They found the woodpile and waited.

A train came in and stopped. Although none of the boys had ever seen a John Wayne movie, they blasted the mail car wide open and took everything—$60. They split the swag and split.

Within 24 hours, Frank and Al had been tracked and captured by Marshal Bud Ledbetter. In a slow, highnoon drawl, he ordered them to throw their guns down and, as an act of humiliation, to tie each other up.

Ed and John galloped over the hill and found a saloon. They had read somewhere that the James boys always celebrated a job by swaggering into a saloon and ordering cowhands to draw. Of course, to digress a moment, no one could have hanged the dead Jesse James for intelligence. He could have hammered that picture into the wall with a gun butt.

The two drank whiskey and talked tough. They talked callously to a small bald-headed man who remained silent. He was Sheriff Temple Houston, who finished his liquor and looked up to find the Jennings boys had guns aimed at him. With a sigh of regret, he yanked his cannon, killed Ed and wounded John. The frontier had lost respect for bad guys.

The living Jennings served time. Al moved to California, telling wild stories of a hundred train robberies. In 1948, an ancient joker appeared, claiming to be the real Jesse James. Al Jennings, who had never met Jesse James, took one look at the 101-year-old man and shouted, "It's him! It's Jesse!"

Al forgot to explain how Jesse had regrown a middle finger which he had shot off while cleaning a pistol instead of his nails. Oh, I know the question you want to ask. The answer is yes. Hollywood made a lurid movie of Al Jennings' life. He never saw it. Couldn't stand the noise. . .

Celeste And Hall Men To Watch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Tony Hall, D-6 Dayton, and Rep. Richard Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, look like young men to watch in the Ohio Democratic party.

Both are waging first-time statewide campaigns. Win or lose in November, both will be considered good candidate material in the future, capital politicians believe.

Hall is running for secretary of state and Celeste is campaigning for lieutenant governor. Both have aggressive, well-organized campaigns.

Even veteran Secretary of State Ted

W. Brown, the Republican incumbent, has some admiration for his November opponent.

"You picked a good man to run against me," he recently told Gov. John J. Gilligan. "If I have to turn this office over to somebody else, I want him to be good."

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown claims no prowess in the stock market. In fact, he listed no stock holdings in a recent financial disclosure report.

But, he does have a theory on how the market can help him.

He told newsmen how he acted on a tip and bought into a national steakhouse operation. The stock fell from 23 points to 12 in only six days.

"It lost five points the day I bought it," Brown said.

But the Attorney General said he had found a new way to fight big corporate interests that pose a threat to consumers.

"All I have to do is invest in them," he said.

State Rep. Ronald H. Weyandt, D-43 Akron, says Watergate and other national issues are having impact in local races "even though the only thing we can do is talk to our congressmen and senators, just like everyone else."

"I get calls from people who are screaming about these things and all I can do is agree with them," Weyandt said.

Weyandt is seeking his second term in the House and he thinks neither party will benefit in November.

"It hurts both parties," he said.

His opposition in the Nov. 5 election is Kathryn Wertzbaugher, a member of the Summit County Republican Finance Committee and a former member of the Akron City Council.

Mountain Climbing Toll Rises Sharply

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Amateur climbers are succumbing in ever greater numbers to the fascination of Europe's Alps, and the death toll on those treacherous slopes is rising alarmingly.

More than 700 persons lost their lives last year in Alpine accidents—300 in Austria, 150 in Switzerland, 130 in Italy and another 120 in France.

With winter months still to come, more than 350 climbers have died in the Alps already this year.

Alpine experts from all four nations say the primary causes of these accidents are inexperience, inability and simple negligence.

"The mountain is treacherous and you cannot challenge it without knowing its tricks — the sudden changes in weather that turn paradise into hell," said a veteran French guide at Courmayeur, in the Mont Blanc massif.

He told of three French climbers who froze to death in a snowstorm on the Italian side of Mont Blanc. They had been wearing shorts and tennis shoes, he said.

"Some accidents of course are inevitable," said an official of the Italian Alpine Club. "But most are caused by inexperience and a crazy underestimation of the mountain's dangers."

"Highly experienced climbers who can climb without a guide are rare," he said. "No other climbers should start out alone, even on the so-called 'easy' routes."

To attack the accident rate, Alpine authorities are examining the possibility of mass information services warning tourists about the dangers of the mountains. Should this fail, they say, they might be forced to ban inexperienced climbers from the more difficult Alpine routes.

The Italian Alpine club has more than 130,000 members, an increase of about 25,000 since 1970. But it says many of the members consider guides expensive and therefore expendable.

Guides on the most difficult routes charge up to $130 a day and $50 a day on the lower slopes.

"But life is worth this expense," said a French guide, "and any guide is cheaper than rescue operations ..."

The Italian Alpine Club spent more than $100,000 in 1973 helping members out of trouble. It charges nonmembers up to $320 for tricky rescue operations involving helicopters.

Siamese Twins Successfully Separated

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Separated by surgery which took 6½ hours, Siamese twin girls from the Dominican Republic slept in separate cribs for the first time in their 13 months of life.

"I know of no reason why they won't live," Dr. C. Everett Koop said after the long operation carried out on Wednesday by 23 surgeons and nurses at Children's Hospital.

"They were two healthy little girls together. We have every reason to believe they'll be two healthy little girls apart," said Koop, who headed the surgical team.

He said not only are both girls expected to live, but that they should lead very normal lives and even bear their own children.

Clara and Altagracia Rodriguez, who had been joined since birth at the pelvis and abdomen, were given their own complete sets of internal organs during the surgical operation.

In the initial recovery stage, Clara and Altagracia were placed in two beds, but they will be treated in the same bed later to prevent possible psychological trauma resulting from separation after living as one being up until now, hospital spokesman Shirley Bonnem said.

She said the tots were doing "extremely well."

Mrs. Farida Rodriguez and her twins came here 11 days ago from a farm outside Santo Domingo. When her daughters were born on Aug. 12, 1973, Mrs. Rodriguez said she was told they would die. Other doctors told her they would live into adulthood but could never be separated.

But Mrs. Rodriguez's cousin worked for an American woman in Puerto Rico, who told her sister in Pennsylvania about the Siamese twins. Dianna Zimnoch of Warrington, Pa., arranged for the operation and her church raised the funds. Mrs. Rodriguez, whose husband remained at home, has three other children.

The hospital said medical case histories show only 24 successful Siamese twin separations, with the first recorded in 1600.

Transmission Lines Eyed By C&SOE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., has requested a conference with the Ohio Power Siting Commission to discuss construction of four transmission lines and conversion of a fifth line to a higher voltage.

The conference, open to the public, will be held Sept. 25.

MRS. GEORGE DONALD ROOF II

Miss Deborah Jo Beglin Bride Of George Roof

Miss Deborah Jo Beglin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beglin, Laurelville became the bride of George Donald Roof II on Aug. 17th in the Methodist Church at South Perry. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Roof of Rockbridge.

The Rev. Raymond Welch officiated the double ring ceremony 6:30 p.m. before the altar decorated with arrangements of mint green and maize carnations. Seven branch candelabra were lighted during the service and the couple joined in lighting a single candle signifying the union during "The Lord's Prayer," played by Mrs. Robert West.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected for her wedding a white formal length silk organza and re-embroidered alencon lace A-line gown. The empire bodice featured an overlay of beaded lace, scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves with lace inserts. The hemline was encircled with wide beaded lace and a sweeping detachable train flowed gracefully under a silk illusion veil caught to a beaded alencon lace bonnet. The bride wore a diamond and emerald ring, a gift of the bridegroom, and diamond earrings, a gift of her grandmother. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations, sweetheart roses and baby's breath backed with Baker's fern and tied with satin ribbon falling in long streamers.

Mrs. Keith Beglin of Laurelville was matron of honor. Miss Cindy Egan and Miss Twila Thompson of Laurelville, and Mrs. Gary McNichols of South Perry were bridesmaids. They wore maize colored crepe knit gowns with empire waistlines centered with bows. The honored attendant's gown was mint green and all attendants wore picture hats matching their dresses.

Miss Teresa Roof, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl in a mint green dress with a matching picture hat. She carried a white wicker basket filled with flower petals. Master James Keith Beglin, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. James Keith Beglin of Laurelville served Mr. Roof as best man. Ushers were, Mr. Marty Eveland of Laurelville, Mr. Gary McNichols of South Perry and Mr. Joe Johnston of South Bloomingville.

Mrs. Beglin wore a rose knit formal length dress with white accessories and Mrs. Roof was attired in a brown and beige full length gown with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Of particular interest to the bride and groom was the presence of Mr. Guy Karshner and Mrs. Gertrude Thompson, the bride's grandparents.

A reception in the social room of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The three tiered cake was decorated with ivory colored icing and cherubs held each layer. At the top was a nosegay of green and yellow carnations mixed with baby's breath.

Hostesses were, Miss Karen Schaal and Mrs. David Karshner, of Laurelville and Mrs. Robert Shoemaker of Kingston. Mrs. Roger Egan, cousin of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The bride, a graduate of Laurelville High School, attended Ohio University where she studied interior design. The bridegroom graduated from Logan Elm High School and is presently employed by DuPont in Circleville.

After a short wedding trip to Burr Oak, the couple now resides at Route 1, Laurelville.

Other guests at the wedding were from Gahanna, Lancaster, Circleville, Kingston, Logan, Adelphi, South Perry and Laurelville.

Monday Club Schedules Meeting

Monday Club will meet 8 p.m., Sept. 23rd, at Pickaway Historical Society Museum.

Mrs. Joseph Adkins will present a paper entitled "Spirit O Practicality." Mrs. William Curtiss will serve as reporter for the evening.

Events Discussed By Scioto Chapel Women's Society

Future events were discussed by Scioto Chapel Women's Society at its recent meeting in the Parish Hall.

Members sang "Beyond The Sunset" accompanied by Mary Ellen Downs at the piano. Devotions were read by Mrs. Cecil Ward who also conducted the business discussion. Thank you notes were read from recipients of flowers and gifts from the society.

Nov. 2nd will be the date for the annual Fall Supper and Oct. 1st, the date for a one day rummage sale at the Parish Hall.

A report of the August family picnic was read by Mrs. Ned Walker. A new member, Mrs. Dean Haller, was welcomed.

Mrs. Chauncey Hedges told of her recent trip to the Hawaiian Islands and showed slides and souvenirs to the 18 members and two guests.

Plate number gifts were presented to Mrs. Robert Drummond, Mrs. Wendell Neff, Mrs. Elzie Brooks and Mrs. Ned Walker, after refreshments were served by co-hostesses, Mrs. George Isham, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Noggle.

Jackson Twp. Class Of 1959 Holds Reunion

The class of 1959 of Jackson Twp. School held a reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Martindale on the London-Groveport Road.

After a carry-in dinner the afternoon was spent visiting, watching television, playing ball and picture taking. A card was signed to send to Carol Maughmer Long in Hawaii.

Present for the affair were: Carl and Anita (Follrod) Cathel and Shelby; Milton and Shirley (McNeil) Martindale, Jared, Annette, Lowell, Darrin, Brinton and Marcus; Don and Judy (Fee) Welsh, Michael and Donna.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Dinner

A carry-in dinner Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. will precede the regular monthly meeting of Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary in the Post Home.

All members are urged to attend as revision of the unit constitution and by-laws will be presented for consideration and voted on at a subsequent meeting.

A special guest will be Miss Mary Horst, delegate to Buckeye Girls State this summer, who will relate the activities of the session.

Members planning to attend the Seventh District Fall Conference on Sept. 28th at the Joseph Hoffman Post 757 in Chillicothe, must have their reservations to Mrs. Charles Moss by Sept. 21st.

Instructor Society Plans Carry-In

Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society will have a carry-in dinner and meeting beginning 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Sue Miga, Zane Trail Road.

Good Shepherd Church Circles Elect Officers

New officers were elected during the recent combined meeting of all circles of Good Shepherd United Methodist Women in the Christian Service center.

Mrs. Dorothy Conley led devotions on "Serving." Scripture was taken from Luke 10:1-12. She said that we are placed here to serve. When we become Christians we love Christ and want to serve him. The group sang "More Love for Thee" accompanied by Miss Lucille Kirkwood. Mrs. Dorothy Conley closed the devotional period by reading "A Charge To Keep I Have."

Mrs. Patty Kirkwood, president, presided over the business meeting. She asked the question "Is your heart full of love?" She then gave the reason for the organization. She stated they are women who are interested in each other, in the community, and the entire world and who love God.

Dates announced to be remembered were: Sept. 25th, 12:30-2 p.m., clothing center; Sept. 28th, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., first annual West Ohio Conference in Dayton; Sept. 29th at 11:30 a.m., trip to Otterbein Home; Oct. 5th, 10 a.m.-2:30 p.m., annual meeting at Reynoldsburg United Methodist Church; Oct. 27, 2:30-4:30 p.m., Leadership Workshop at United Methodist in New Holland.

The Rev. Eugene Flowers conducted the election of officers. Serving as executive board officers for the year will be: Mrs. Patty Kirkwood, president; Mrs. Ruby Wise, vice president; Miss Pam Crabtree, secretary; Miss Lucille Kirkwood, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Conley, coordinator for Christian Personhood; Mrs. Eloise Fee, coordinator of Christian social involvement; Mrs. Mary White, coordinator of Christian global concerns; Mrs. Blanche Kerns, chairman, Mrs. Florence Mason, Mrs. Carol Bowers and Mrs. Hazel Merz, nominating committee; Mrs. Elaine Bowman, Mrs. Evelyn Dunkle, Mrs. Joanne Schlegler and Mrs. Myrna Siniff, Circle leaders.

Monique Fabrics Coming

During the past 14 years Daytex Inc., now a subsidiary of Super Valu Stores Inc., has grown to include more than 80 fabric stores throughout the midwest, including the House of Fabrics in Circleville.

During October as a result of a marketing and design change, all stores in the 7-state chain will become Monique Fabrics. The name reflects the upgrading of the entire chain.

The local fabric shop will continue to offer the same personal service its customers have come to expect. In addition to greater selection in fabrics and sewing accessories and competitive low prices, Monique customers may join the Monique's Sewing Club which gives a free 13th purchase equal to the average of the first 12 purchases.

Unity Committee To Support Tax

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Ralph Perk announced formation of a "unity committee" Thursday to campaign for approval of the proposed city income tax increase.

He also told newsmen he will veto any gun control legislation which includes a registration requirement.

Voters are to decide in November whether to increase the current one per cent tax to 1.5 per cent, the funds to help finance city operations as well as its bus system.

The committee included Perk, City Council President George Forbes, Law Director Herbert Whiting, Teamsters chief Jackie Presser and other Cleveland leaders.

On gun control, Perk said he couldn't agree with using city funds in a program like that in Baltimore, where public money is used in purchasing guns from citizens. But Perk said it would be a viable plan if private funds were used.

Jesus To Return, Take Bride?

NEW YORK (AP)—As the Rev. Sun Myung Moon tells it, God intended for Jesus to marry and with His bride to become the "true parents" of a sinless humanity, but since He was crucified and prevented from doing so, it's still to be done.

"That is why He is coming again as the third Adam," says the elaborately promoted Korean evangelist. "He will take a bride and ... true ancestry of God will be established and heaven on earth can then be literally achieved."

This is the asserted "new truth" that the Rev. Mr. Moon proclaims in the prime meeting halls of the nation, accompanied by a fervent entourage of young followers, putting up posters and roving the streets to stir up attendance.

To them, he is the forerunner of the new advent he describes, or, as some maintain, its messianic fulfillment. In contrast to classic Christianity, he offers what he terms a "new message."

"The realization of all this is at hand," the Rev. Mr. Moon says, adding that a "perfected Adam" united with a "perfect Eve" is to restore a righteous human lineage. "He is destined to come to earth as the son of man in the flesh."

Also, He is to come from Korea, called the "third Israel," according to the Rev. Mr. Moon's 600-page guiding text for his movement, "Divine Principles."

"Blessed are those who see Him and accept Him," he says, and hints repeatedly the time is now. "The greatest opportunity in any man's lifetime is now knocking at our door."

An appearance of the Rev. Mr. Moon at Madison Square Garden here Wednesday night was part of a 40-city U.S. tour this year, following other wideranging lectures in 1973 and 1972, heralded by full-page newspaper ads.

His movement, called the Unification Church, now claims 20,000 members in the United States and 2 million in 40 countries, mostly in Japan and Korea.

The group owns a $800,000 training center in Tarrytown, N.Y., and lists 120 other centers across the country. The Rev. Mr. Moon, 54, his young second wife and children have a 35-room mansion near Tarrytown, N.Y.

Much of the movement's generous financing reportedly comes from organization-related business assets, including a tea company, pharmaceutical firm, retreat ranches and commercial cleaning services.

Full-time workers reside frugally in communes under Spartan disciplines, but the Rev. Mr. Moon moves in select environs, including a banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria's Grand Ballroom the night before his address here this week.

Bishop Drove Steam Train

WAKEFIELD, England (AP)—A steam locomotive on a preserved railway has been named "Eric Treacy" after the Bishop of Wakefield who is a railroad enthusiast. Dr. Treacy drove the steamer for five miles over the railway which runs over the North Yorkshire moors.

PTO News

WASHINGTON PTO

The Washington Twp. Parent Teacher Organization opened its September meeting with the pledge to the flag led by the president, Ruth La Fontaine. The opening selection was given by Jerry Leist.

The committees for the coming year were announced. Mrs. La Fontaine introduced Dale Drake, the new principal, who then introduced the faculty.

The room count was taken and Miss Paula Serian's second grade class and Mrs. Jacqueline Shrader's fifth grade class had the most parents present. It was decided to continue the policy of giving $2 to the room with the most parents present.

A motion was made that $30 be given to each class and a small first aid kit be placed in each room.

It was decided to continue the repair of the steps. The materials should arrive in time for this to be done during Pumpkin Show vacation. The intercom system will be installed in the new second grade rooms by volunteer labor.

The PTO decided to buy small sports equipment immediately so the children will be able to use it while the weather is good this fall.

The room mother committee has decided to discontinue serving cookies at the meetings due to increased costs but will continue to serve drinks. Refreshments were served by the room mothers committee.

Church Briefs

"And The Church Will Grow" is the sermon topic for Sunday morning at Calvary United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Wayne Searfoss, missionary from Mexico, will be guest speaker at the Sunday morning worship service of Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church.

Sunday morning at First Presbyterian Church the sermon theme selected is "Is There A Right And A Wrong?"

"How To Experience God's Love And Forgiveness" is the sermon theme for Sunday morning at Trinity Lutheran Church. Bible Study is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the church parlor.

Sunday is Round-up Day at First Baptist Church with breakfast in the Fellowship Hall at 9 a.m. A special auditorium class is planned for those not regularly in Sunday School. The sermon theme is "The Block Sermon." A revival begins Monday and continues through Sept. 29 with the Rev. Jerry I. Smith, evangelist from Texas as speaker for the 7 p.m. services. Billy Bowen, the new music and youth director, will lead the singing during the revival. Nursery service will be provided.

Church School resumes regular classes this Sunday at St. Philip's Episcopal Church with the 10 a.m. Family Service. Classes will be dismissed during the service and will meet for an hour. Refreshments and fellowship will follow in the Parish Hall. The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 a.m. Renovation and restoration committee meets 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the church library. A Country Store workshop will be held 7 p.m. Wednesday at the David Williams' residence, 224 E. Union St. Choir rehearsal will be 8 p.m. each Thursday.

Named To Top Post

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richard L. Kizer of Portsmouth was elected president of the Ohio Chapter American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers during the group's recent convention in Cleveland. Kizer takes over the helm of the group Jan. 1, 1975 for a one year term.

OCSEA Prepares $250 Million Benefit Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Karl Stewart, executive secretary of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association, says his organization is preparing a package for the state legislature with 30 different proposals amounting to $250 million.

Among the proposals are a $1 wage hike, collective bargaining bill, free dental care and fully-paid hospital insurance, Stewart said in an interview Wednesday.

He said he believes the state has the money to provide the proposed benefits as evidenced by the recent budget surplus.

Stewart said the proposals include removing the no-strike provision from OCSEA's constitution and repealing the Ferguson Act, which prohibits strikes by public employees.

Coal Production Shows Decline

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Coal production dropped sharply in the first week of September, reflecting the Labor Day holiday and a mine shutdown in central West Virginia connected with a school textbook protest.

Production of bituminous coal and lignite in the week ended Sept. 7 was estimated by the U.S. Bureau of Mines at 11,100,000 tons, down 12.6 per cent, or 1,605,000 tons, from the preceding week. Production in the same week of 1973 was 10,145,000 tons.

This year's coal production through Sept. 7 was 423,300,000, up 5.1 per cent from production as of Sept. 8, 1973.

The biggest square in the world is the Tian an men Square in Peking which extends over 98 acres.

Nobody Made a Nickel

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.

But painted it was!

That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!

But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable...

You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

Derby News

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Clara Mae Sines and other relatives on the loss of her son Paul Dewey Sines, age two years, who passed away in Children's Hospital on Sept. 9.

Don't forget the children's hour is being resumed on Sept. 26 at the Derby United Methodist Church. The time is 2:20 p.m. and includes children in grades three through six. Anyone wishing to donate cookies may do so. Anyone with transportation problems may call 869-2714.

With the music ministry at the Derby United Methodist Church, the Cherub choir (age four through grade two, met on Monday at the Church at 2:30 p.m. with Sally Graham directing.

The Junior Choir (grades 3-6) met also on Monday at 3:30 p.m.

The Youth Choir (grades 7-12) meets on Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. with Debbie Clifton directing.

The Senior Choir meeting time will be on Wednesday evenings also, at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Sue Myers in charge.

Mrs. Charles Nance was the Sunday dinner guest of Miss Helen Geesling. In the afternoon, they attended the open house 60th wedding anniversary celebration honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sheets of near Five Points.

Mrs. Carl (Flonnie) Vance with daughter Mrs. Betty Lugenbeel visited briefly with friends in Derby on Sunday.

The new pastor at Southwest Community Church of the Nazarene, Reverend William Bauman, will hold his first services on Sept. 29.

The September meeting of the Derby Garden Club will be held Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Darrell Hatfield who will speak on daylilies. Reports on the OAGC Convention and Gardeners Day Out will be given.

Officers for the upcoming year will be installed and a bulb exchange is planned. Hostesses will be Mrs. Inez Peterson and Carolyn Onewehr.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Onewehr, Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Nance and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Riddle attended the 54th annual Pickaway County Farm Bureau meeting in Circleville Monday evening.

Stanley Jones of near Five Points was a caller at the homes of his aunt, Mrs. Mae Delay, and cousin, Stephen Onewehr, and family over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Onewehr and children visited with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tracy and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tracy of near Columbus on Sunday evening.

The first PTG meeting was held at the Derby school and well attended on Thursday. All teachers present were introduced. A membership drive will be held Sept. 16-24 with a charge of 50 cents per person. Anyone is invited to join. Any mother interested in being a room mother should call Mrs. Clare (Erma) Clark of Clarks Lake.

Sympathy is extended to William Weimer and family, whose brother passed away the past week.

CCI Inmate Being Sought

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Willis Jones, 47, an honor inmate at Chillicothe Correctional Institution, was discovered missing Thursday morning from his work assignment at the institution's dairy barn, said a spokesman for the Ohio Department of Correction and Rehabilitation.

Jones, who is serving a sentence of 13-70 years for armed robbery, assault with a dangerous weapon, intentional shooting and carrying a concealed weapon, was presumed to be heading for Columbus, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said county and state police have been alerted.

On Books And Activities At The Library

Staff members at the Library have been spending their off-duty hours reading this week's new book. From the favorable accounts being heard, readers are in for some good times in the days ahead. Be sure to stop in and pick out the book of your choice.

A biography that reads like a novel, rich description of Aztec court life, beautiful photographs are just a few of the phrases one staff member applied to "Montezuma" by C. A. Burland.

"Bright Eyes" by Dorothy Clark Wilson is an intriguing story of Susette La Flesche, an Omaha Indian girl who fought the injustices heaped upon her people. Longfellow called her Minnehaha when he met her.

The story of Toma, the compassionate cop, is here in book form. Written by David Toma with Michael Brett it's called "Toma".

Another cop, this one an undercover cop, is the subject of "Solo". It's a self-portrait by Anthony Schiano and proves that true stories can sometimes be more exciting than fiction.

Other biographies include: "While It Is Day" by Elton Trueblood, "Paine" by David Hawke, and "The Gift Of A Home" by Beverly Nichols.

With the hunting season upon us, "Training The Versatile Gun Dog" by Jerome and Alyson Knap, "Game and the Gunner" by Pierre Pulling, and "The Rifle Book" by Jack O'Connor should interest those about to take to the fields and woods.

Two new titles dealing with corruption are: "Cruel and Unusual Justice" by Jack Newfield and "Tiger In The Court" by Paul Hoffman. The former exposes the failure of our courts and prisons while the latter is the story of Herbert Stern, a tough-minded U.S. Attorney.

Photography buffs will find a bonanza in the "Life Library of Photography" books. This is another Time-Life series. Two single titles in the same category are "Wildlife Photography" by Hoskins and Gooders and "Art Without Boundaries" by Woods, Thompson, and Williams.

"Dying In The Sun" by Donn Pearce is an unvarnished look at the old, living in retirement in Florida.

"Wills, A Dead Giveaway" by Millie Considine is a fascinating book about some of the strange wills left by those departing this world.

Because he suffered from great fears, Geoffrey Moorehouse decided to challenge the Sahara desert. He tells the story of this physical and spiritual conquest in "The Fearful Void".

"Corsica-Portrait of a Granite Island" is a well written book by Dorothy Carrington. It's not only informative, it's fascinating reading as well.

If you're interested in canoes, kayaks, or rafts, "Wildwater Touring" by Scott and Margaret Arighi is a useful guide to the technique for navigating wilderness rivers. If your taste runs to bigger ships, you'll enjoy "The Franklin Comes Home" by A. A. Hoehling. It's the saga of the most decorated ship in Navel history.

John Diebold takes a look at the computer and man in "The World Of The Computer".

Modern technology also comes into play in "Planetfall" by Martin Caidin.

Craft people will enjoy Beverly Plummer's "Earth Presents". It details how to make beautiful gifts from nature's bounty.

Other new non-fiction includes: "Bachelor Fatherhood" by Michael McFadden, "Raising Children In A Different Time" by Dr. Spock, and "How To Have More Money" by John Barnes.

If you enjoy cartoons, "Motoring Through Punch", edited by Russell Brockbank is a real winner. It's a complete comic history of the automobile from its beginning to the present day. Try it for sheer fun.

Injuries Prove Fatal To 19-Year-Old Girl

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cindy Haustetter, 19, Mount Carmel, Ohio, died Thursday at Drake Memorial Hospital 33 months after she was struck by a car near her home Dec. 27, 1971.

The driver who struck her was never found.

Four new novels this week are: "Strangers In Company" by Jane Hodge, James Leasor's "Mandarin Gold", "The Enemies Within" by Lewin, and "The Pirate" by Harold Robbins.

It's a good time to visit your Pickaway Public Library. It's also a good time to register your preschoolers in the story hour program which starts Oct. 1. and continues every Tuesday through November.

BEAUTY QUEEN IS HAPPY MOTHER—Helen Morgan is congratulated by her boyfriend, Chris Clode, after she was named Miss United Kingdom at a contest in London. British newspapers disclosed that Helen, although unmarried, is the mother of a 15-month-old son. Contest rules out married contestants but makes no mention of banning motherhood. Helen will keep the title.

Federal Pay Hike Backed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has told President Ford that postponing federal pay increases is the wrong way to fight inflation and ordered the 5.5 per cent raises to take effect Oct. 1 as originally scheduled.

Ford's first clash with the Democratic-controlled Congress on an issue related to the nation's economic problems resulted Thursday in a 64 to 35 setback in the Senate for the new chief executive.

Ford wanted the pay raises for 3.5 million white-collar civilian employees and military personnel delayed until Jan. 1, saving $700 million and lending psychological support to the anti-inflation effort.

However, 15 Republicans joined 49 Democrats in voting to reject Ford's proposal. The other 27 Republicans and just eight Democrats voted with the President.

"You're not going to stop inflation or even slow it down with this kind of gimmick," declared Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee which voted 7 to 0 against deferring the pay raise.

Assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan led the fight for Ford. "You've got to start somewhere" in the battle against inflation, he said.

"If the Senate says 'No' to the President, then in effect we are going to open the floodgates and make it very difficult for the President to ask any other group to exercise restraint," Griffin said.

The pay raise was recommended by a presidential board under a 1970 law that provides for a recommendation each year on what changes, if any, are needed to keep federal salaries comparable with those in the civilian sector.

Under the procedure, the President then accepts or revises the recommendation, subject to a veto by either the House or Senate.

Campaign Finance Measure Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have put off for at least 10 days further efforts to compromise differences over campaign-finance legislation.

The break-off in negotiations on Thursday cast another cloud over the measure, already under the threat of a possible presidential veto.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Senate conferees, said he hopes the controversy can be resolved and a bill passed before Congress recesses for the November elections.

The House is scheduled to start its recess on Oct. 11 and the Senate soon thereafter.

Late Letter Robs Man Of Good Job

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Robert Chapdelaine has a sad story to tell about how he ended up in the U.S. Air Force because the Postal Service took 356 days to deliver a letter across town.

And when it finally arrived, the letter came with two cents postage due because the rates had gone up during the year Chapdelaine was waiting.

Having failed to get the job which he believes the lost letter would have brought him, Chapdelaine signed up for a four-year hitch in the Air Force. Now he wants out.

The story began when Chapdelaine, then 18, applied for a $3.75-an-hour job on the service desk of the California Highway Patrol. His goal was to become a patrol officer when he reached 21.

He passed the written test, and was mailed a notice on June 21, 1973, to report for an oral examination. By June 12, 1974, when the notice finally reached Chapdelaine with postage due, he had long since been scrubbed from the list of applicants.

He says he joined the Air Force because "I thought it would be a good way to get police training. But I want to be a highway patrolman, a civilian."

But Chapdelaine's sad tale may yet have a happy ending.

Since the story of his long-delayed letter appeared in the Sacramento Bee on Thursday, Chapdelaine has been reinstated on the list for oral interviews for the patrol job. He said that the judge advocate's office at the Air Force base near Sacramento where he is stationed has promised to help him get discharged if he gets the job.

Army Deserters Released As Part Of Amnesty Program

By GINNY PITT
Associated Press Writer

The first Army deserters freed from prison under President Ford's conditional clemency plan have left Ft. Leavenworth in Kansas on 30-day temporary home parole.

In Fayetteville, N.C., 28 men were sent home on Thursday from Ft. Bragg, and four draft evaders were released from Seagoville federal prison near Dallas.

At Leavenworth, officials said 95 men were scheduled for processing through the clemency board after filing petitions for clemency.

A spokesman at Seagoville said 30 to 40 others in the district were eligible for clemency.

Seventeen men remained in stockade at Ft. Bragg until it is determined whether they qualify for the program, officials said.

Pentagon officials in Washington said 364 military deserters had inquired about clemency by Thursday, and a Justice Department spokesman said 133 draft evaders and 59 deserters had called for information.

Federal officials said the number of men who qualify for clemency throughout the nation is not known.

U.S. attorneys in most areas of the country continued to receive telephone calls on Thursday about the clemency program — mostly anonymous.

In New York, pollster Louis Harris said on Thursday that there has been a sharp increase in the number of persons who favor a clemency program requiring deserters and draft evaders to perform two years of national service.

He said a poll of 1,527 persons early this month showed 56 per cent favored a program along the lines of the President's, and 36 per cent opposed it.

Blue Cross Changes Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Starting Oct. 1, Ohio's Blue Cross plans will operate under new rules prepared by the state Insurance Department in an effort to hold down health care costs.

Insurance Director Kenneth E. DeShetler said the rules, filed Thursday with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, will be the "cornerstone" of the insurance department's fight against inflation.

Areas to be covered include: Duplication of facilities and services, hospital environmental safety, consumer control, hospital management, alternative forms of care, financial management, protection of subscriber rights, disclosure and cost control experiments.

Beginning July 1, 1975, each of the seven plans will be required to submit annually to the director proposals to insure that the rules for the nine areas are being carried out.

Each plan will be required to make a "good faith effort" to have member hospitals consolidate or phase out unnecessary services so plan members are not subsidizing duplicate hospital facilities.

Members of board of trustees of the plans will be required to reveal any financial or institutional interests that could be in conflict with their Blue Cross service.

After July 1, 1975, each board must be made up of two thirds consumers. The rules grew out of proposals first made public in May. A hearing was held on them June 26 and some minor revisions have been made since then.

Harris said last January the public supported a similar position by 45 to 43 per cent. Those polled recently opposed blanket amnesty 53 to 37 per cent, Harris said. Last January the public was opposed to blanket amnesty 56 per cent to 30 per cent.

Butz Sees Adequate Food Supply

CHICAGO (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says he was not serious about eliminating one-half the country's pets when he raised the possibility recently, and he thinks there will be enough food for all Americans and their animals.

"We are not in a food crisis, either in this country or in the world," Butz said today. "There is absolutely no basis for the kind of panic that has been generated in some quarters both here and abroad."

Butz, in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Pet Food Institute, said his earlier remarks about reducing the U.S. pet population as a way to conserve food were made in response to proposals that Americans eat less meat.

As he has repeatedly, Butz said today that farm production can continue to expand if farmers and industry have enough profit incentive to reach out for new techniques. He said those who understand this are not impressed "by the persistent cries of doom" from critics.

"The world is not on the brink of chaos and famine, and neither are America's pets," Butz said. "We are certainly not to the point where we need to get rid of our household pets or remove meat from our diets."

Indians Planning Police Confrontation

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP) — Northern Idaho's 67-member Kootenai Indian tribe braced for a confrontation today with state and local law enforcement agencies.

Kootenai tribal members planned to erect roadblocks on the region's four major roadways in an effort to secure at least part of 1.6 million acres in Idaho and Montana which they lost in 1855.

State and local authorities said they would arrest anyone manning a roadblock.

On Thursday evening, a 33-car convoy of marked Idaho State Police vehicles moved into Bonners Ferry.

Tribal spokesman Douglas Wheaton pledged that no Indian would provoke violence. He said no one manning roadblocks would be armed. He added, however, that if fired upon, the Kootenais would secure weapons.

The Kootenai said their plan was designed to force immediate negotiation of their first treaty with the federal government. The plan called for roadblocks to collect 10-cent tolls from cars traveling on highways crossing the Canadian border and connecting Montana and Idaho.

The Indian band had given the federal government until midnight on Thursday to meet its demands or face a declaration of war.

Tribal leaders characterized their declaration of war on the United States as the last chance for their band's survival.

Bureau of Indian Affairs Commissioner Morris Thompson told the tribe by telegram that its demands involved complex issues touching a variety of federal and state agencies. He said the bureau's area director, Francis Briscoe, would be sent from Portland, Ore., on Wednesday to open talks.

But the tribe refused to postpone its war declaration.

Meet The Tigers

Three sophomore members of the Circleville football team who are expected to see action on the Tiger line include tackles Art Davis (78) and Chuck Wellman (68) and center Randy Happeney (50). Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis, 425 Cedar Heights Rd.; Wellman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wellman, 826 N. Court St.; and Happeney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Happeney, 155 E. High St.

Ohio College Grid Contests Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's home opener and the first Mid-American Conference contest of the season lead a 25-game Ohio college football schedule Saturday.

The Buckeyes, No. 2 nationally, will play before an Ohio Stadium crowd of more than 86,000 against Oregon State. It's the first meeting ever between the intersectional opponents. Ohio State won its only 1974 assignment so far, 34-19 at Minnesota. Oregon State has suffered successive setbacks at Syracuse and Georgia.

Meanwhile, Mid-American opponents Ohio University and host Kent State play before a regional television (ABC) audience. The two are considered prime conference title favorites with Kent the preseason championship selection.

Miami tries for its 14th straight victory, going to rugged Purdue. The Redskins and Penn State share the nation's longest current major college winning streak.

Independent Dayton, which has matched Kent State's 2-0 start this fall, travels up to Bowling Green. The Falcons lost their opener last week 24-6 to East Carolina.

The state's two other majors, Cincinnati and Toledo, play at night.

Cincinnati, a 21-17 victim at Washington, faces its second straight long road trip. The Bearcats visit Rice of the Southwestern Conference.

Toledo, still wincing from a 47-13 walloping at Tampa, tries its home turf against Villanova in another nonconference contest.

The Hoosier-Buckeye and President's Conferences are active for the second weekend in a row.

In the Hoosier-Buckeye, Findlay goes to Anderson and Bluffton to Manchester.

The President's pairings have Case Western Reserve at home for Allegheny and John Carroll at Bethany.

Elsewhere in the afternoon, Youngstown is at South Dakota State, Baldwin-Wallace at Edinboro, Muskingum at Slippery Rock, Mount Union at Wooster, Albion at Denison, Ohio Wesleyan at DePauw, Oberlin at Hiram, Wilmington at Rose-Hulman and Lincoln at Central State.

At night, Akron goes to Marshall, Wittenberg to Ashland, Ohio Northern to Heidelberg, Capital to Marietta, Kenyon to Otterbein and Defiance to Adrian.

Meet The Vikings

Sophomore members of the Teays Valley Viking football team include tackle Jon Fausnaugh (79), middle guard Lance Roesse (64), and fullback Dewey Chaffin (33). Fausnaugh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Fausnaugh, 110 East St., Ashville; Roesse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Roesse, 1053 Ashville Rd.; and Chaffin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chaffin, 5051 Lee Rd., Ashville.

LE Golfers Rip Vikings, Whitehall

The Logan Elm golf team, riddled by the loss of key players to the football team this year, pulled off a stunning upset at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links Thursday by beating Whitehall and Teays Valley.

The Braves four-man team toured the course in 170 strokes to 172 for Whitehall and 186 for Teays Valley.

It was the best score this year for the Logan Elm team, that is averaging 185 shots a round.

The win ups the Braves to 3-2 for the year. They lost to defending Mid-State League champions Canal Winchester Wednesday at Upper Lansdowne.

Steve Marshall was medalist for Logan Elm with a fine 39, but the big surprise for the Braves was the play of Scott Pontius, normally the fifth man on the team.

Pontius fired a nine-hole round of 40 to beat his average by six strokes.

Keith James fired a 45, Randy Watkins had a 46, and A. J. Kamler had a 52.

The Braves will continue play Tuesday when they visit Fisher Catholic.

CHS Runners Sweep Past Greenfield

The Circleville High School cross-country team upped its record to 3-1 by capturing four of the first five places in a meet with Greenfield Thursday.

The Tigers from Circleville bested their SCOL opponent 19-38.

Bill Massie won the race with a time of 11:15. Jeff Carter was second in 11:31, Doug Baker was third in 11:44, and Randy Speakman took fifth place in 12:07.

Other Tiger runners and their times include Dave Uland, eighth, 12:18; Raymond Smith, ninth, 12:19; Randy Swower, 12th, 12:46; Brent Patrick, 14th, 12:53; Ed Brown, 16th, 13:35; Alan Ranck, 17th, 13:44; Joel Baker, 19th, 14:48; and Dwight Plum, 20th, 16:14.

The Tiger runners will go against Southeastern Tuesday on the CHS course.

PPKers Must Register By Oct. 4

Circleville area youngsters are reminded that they have less than two weeks to register for the 14th annual Punt, Pass and Kick program co-sponsored nationally by the National Football League and the Ford Dealers of America.

Any youngster, 8 through 13 years of age, accompanied by a parent or guardian is eligible to register at any co-sponsoring Ford Dealer. Registration ends October 4.

There is no cost to register and each entrant will receive a free PPK Tips Book which includes a couple set of rules, helpful conditioning exercises and important punting, passing and place-kicking tips by outstanding pros.

Participants compete only against other youngsters in their own age group. There is no body contact and no special equipment is required. Also, participation does not impair a youth's amateur standing.

Laurelville LL Holds Pot-Luck

The pot-luck carry-in supper of the Laurelville Little League will be Saturday, Sept. 21, at 6 p.m.

Awards will be given to players and election of officers for next year will be held.

Persons who had children in the program this year are invited to attend as are persons who are interested in having their children play in the league next year. Ages of eligible boys or girls are 7-15.

Drawing for the tickets will also be held Saturday night.

Armbro Omaha Wins Little Brown Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — "I wonder when the bubble will break," said a beaming Billy Haughton.

Harness racing's driving superstar was reflecting on his incredible 1974 season, soaring even higher Thursday with a Little Brown Jug victory behind Armbro Omaha.

Haughton seemed a bit surprised over Armbro Omaha's two come-from-behind heat decisions over Boyden Hanover in the middle jewel of racing's Triple Crown at the Delaware County Fairgrounds.

"Boyden Hanover," Haughton said, "is a better colt on a halfmile track because he has such quick speed. He can get away from you on the turns here."

Then Haughton added, "My colt is dead game."

Armbro Omaha's winning mile times were 1:57 in the second division, 1½ lengths ahead of Boyden Hanover, and 1:58 4-5 in the raceoff, a neck in front.

Foiled was a Boyden Hanover drive toward the Triple Crown. However, George Sholty, his driver, took the defeat of the Cane Futurity winner philosophically.

"I'm not disappointed," Sholty said. "Billy had his colt on top when he reached the wire. That's what counts."

Bret's Star, the first division winner in 1:58, finished fourth in the raceoff behind Armbro Omaha, Boyden Hanover and longshot Pickwick Baron.

Haughton, with his unprecedented fifth Jug driving triumph, swept 1974's two major championships. Earlier he had won his first Hambletonian trot with Christopher T.

He has won three $100,000 races and his 19-year-old son, Peter, two more $100,000 events this year.

The Haughton Stable career earnings passed $20 million, once considered unattainable. Of that, $2.1 million has come in 1974.

"What a wonderful year," Haughton said.

The 50-year-old driving star followed the same strategy twice with Armbro Omaha, owned by Canadian contractor Elgin Armstrong.

He laid off the pace with the Airliner colt for the first half, made his move at the threequarter pole and overhauled Boyden Hanover in the stretch both times.

Even at that, Haughton was a bit puzzled he won the raceoff.

"I still thought Bret's Star (the 6-5 betting favorite) would come by both of us in the stretch. I don't know what happened to him," Haughton said.

Armbro Omaha collected $49,073 of the record purse of $132,630. He now has 11 victories in 41 career starts for a bankroll of more than $227,000. Nearly $200,000 of it has come this year.

He paid $5.60, $3.20 and $2.80, Boyden Hanover $4.20 and $3.60 and Pickwick

Baron $5.80 in the raceoff.

Starred by Bret was fifth, Title Holder, the early cofavorite with Boyden Hanover, sixth, Dorado Almahurst, seventh, and Belmont Shadow, eighth.

3 Long Shots Win Places At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Three long shots romped home in the first three places in the 6½ furlong $3,500 featured eighth race at Latonia in 1:19.3-5 Thursday night.

Lawrence W., 40-1, led wire to wire to win by two lengths and paid $89.80, $33.20 and $22.40. Lot O Song, second, a 99-1 shot, paid $26 and $16.40 and Cause No Trix, third, $14.60.

Payoff Punch and Light Moment, 6-4, paid $88.60 in the daily double and the crowd of 3,802 bet $380,925.

things with the team," the manager said when asked about the clubhouse meeting he called after Thursday night's 8-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

He went over them in a very loud voice for almost 10 minutes behind the closed doors.

The Reds, second by 2½ games to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League West race and unable to gain ground all week, jumped to a 6-0 lead in the second inning when Giants' starter John D'Acquisto, 12-13, walked five batters and gave up a basesloaded double to Johnny Bench.

Then it was just a matter of holding on for the victory while the Dodgers were romping past the San Diego Padres 11-2.

"We really didn't do much damage tonight; the kid just walked everybody," said Anderson, whose team scored just six runs in losses to San Diego Tuesday and Wednesday.

"It's tough to bear down when you're playing before a small crowd (2,074), it's cold and windy and they've flashed a 4-0 Dodgers' lead on the scoreboard," admitted the Reds' Pete Rose, known as baseball's ultimate hustler.

Gary Thomasson's three-run home run off Fred Norman, 12-12, in the eighth made things a little tight but Pedro Borbon retired three straight Giants' batters in the ninth to protect the 8-4 lead.

The Reds, 8-4 against San Francisco this season, play six of their 11 remaining games against the Giants. The Dodgers are 12-0 against San Diego, with six games left in the one-sided Southern California series.

"It's frustrating. I just hope the Padres can win at least two of those games," said Bench.

The Padres have beaten the Reds six times this year, "and that's the difference in the race," Anderson said.

WFL Teams Study Moves From Home

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Houston Texans and Detroit Wheels, two of the financially troubled franchises in the World Football League, both hope to move to greener pastures in the immediate future.

But how immediate is not known, and how much greener remains to be seen.

The Texans were all set to move to Shreveport for next Wednesday's game against Memphis, but State District Court Judge Arthur Leshner issued a temporary restraining order in Houston Thursday compelling the team to play next week's game in the Astrodome.

Meanwhile, there were indications the Wheels might be shifted to Charlotte today.

Upton Bell, a former executive with the New England Patriots of the National Football League, has shown an interest in purchasing the Detroit club and moving it to Charlotte, and had told the local Park and Recreation Commission he would reveal his plans by today.

If Bell doesn't move the Wheels to Charlotte, the WFL might, according to a report in the Charlotte News.

That report quoted Tim Grandi, assistant to WFL Commissioner Gary Davidson, as saying, "We are hoping for a favorable answer from Bell. There are indications that he is very close to taking the team to Charlotte. But the possibility does exist that the league would make the move if he does not ... the city is considered a very favorable location."

East.

Dave McNally pitched the Orioles to their 18th victory in the last 23 games as the Yankees, after a recent surge, lost their third straight game to the Orioles.

The Orioles' pitchers gave New York just four runs in the three-game series at Yankee Stadium. McNally gave the Yankees only three hits.

In the other American League games, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox 3-1 and the Kansas City Royals defeated the Oakland A's 4-3 in 10 innings.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 8-6; the Chicago Cubs turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4; the Los Angeles Dodgers bombed the San Diego Padres 11-2 and the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the San Francisco Giants 8-4.

McNally, 16-10, stifled the Yankees on three singles in winning his fourth consecutive game and eighth in 10 decisions since July 31. It was the second shutout for the Orioles in the three-game sweep.

Don Baylor opened the scoring, smashing the first pitch of the fifth inning from Rudy May, 6-4, far over the fence for his ninth home run of the season. The Orioles added two runs in the eighth inning on a run-scoring single by Paul Blair and an RBI double by Bobby Grich. They scored four more runs in the ninth, with Andy Etchebarren, Mark Belanger and Tommy Davis each singling in a run and Grich knocking in another with a grounder.

Tigers 3, Red Sox 1

Vernon Ruhl pitched two-hit ball for seven innings in his first major league start and Al Kaline closed in on 3,000 lifetime hits with a run-scoring single, lifting Detroit over Boston. The Red Sox' loss left them in third place, three games behind the Orioles.

Royals 4, A's 3

Amos Otis singled home the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning, giving Kansas City its victory over Oakland. The loss reduced the A's lead in the American League West to 4½ games over the idle Texas Rangers.

Pirates 8, Cardinals 6

Willie Stargell hit a two-run double and Richie Hebner added a three-run homer, keying a seventh-inning rally that lifted Pittsburgh over St. Louis. The victory moved the Pirates within a half-game of the first-place Cardinals in the National League East.

Cubs 7, Phillies 4

Ron Dunn drove in three runs and drilled three doubles and Bill Madlock knocked in two runs and collected three hits, leading Chicago over Philadelphia.

Dodgers 11, Padres 2

Steve Yeager smashed a three-run homer and Don Sutton and Mike Marshall combined on a six-hitter, leading Los Angeles past San Diego.

PFSA Holds .22 Caliber Rifle Match

The Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. held an NRA .22 caliber rifle match at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The high score was fired by Larry Smith, Columbus.

A work session has been scheduled beginning 9 a.m. Sunday. Members are requested to bring lawnmowers to cut grass on the recreation area in preparation for National Hunting and Fishing day open house Sept. 28.

The archery division has scheduled a roving course match also for Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. Trophies will be awarded for bows with sights and without sights.

Area sportsmen may now purchase their Ohio deer permits from club agents. The deer permit fee has been increased to $10 this year with a 50 cent writing fee.

Heavy College Grid Slate On Tap

Top-ranked Notre Dame goes into Saturday's game against Northwestern following an impressive 31-7 victory over Georgia Tech Sept. 9, while the unranked Wildcats dropped their opener by an embarrassing 41-7 score to Michigan State.

Nevertheless, Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian has found something to worry about as he prepares the Irish for Saturday's game before an expected capacity crowd of 55,000 at Northwestern's Dyche Stadium: quarterback Mitch Anderson, the leading passer in the Big Ten Conference last year.

"We still don't know how our green secondary will respond against a good passing team," said Parseghian, who left the head coaching job at Northwestern in 1964 to take over at Notre Dame.

Of the other Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll, only third-ranked Oklahoma has the weekend off. In day games, No. 2 Ohio State plays host to Oregon State No. 4 Nebraska journeys to Wisconsin, No. 6 Michigan entertains Colorado and Navy visits No. 8 Penn State. In night action, No. 5 Alabama meets Southern Mississippi at Birmingham, Ala., No. 7 Louisiana State plays host to Texas A&M, Wyoming visits No. 9 Texas and Oklahoma State opposes No. 10 Arkansas at Little Rock, Ark.

Second-ranked Ohio State is heavily favored over Oregon State in a major intersectional battle. Ohio State rolled up 486 yards in beating Minnesota 34-19 in its opener last week, while Oregon State is 0-2, having lost to Syracuse 23-15 and Georgia 48-35.

"Nobody comes easy these days, especially when you're highly rated," warned Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes. "It would make their season if they could beat us in Columbus."

No. 4 Nebraska comes off a 61-7 rout of Oregon last week which made quite an impression on Wisconsin Coach John Jardine.

"Nebraska is much better than last season," Jardine said. "With Tony Circleville, getting pressure golf from its four-man team, swamped Wehrle 163-187 Thursday at Groveport Country Club.

Jeff Spires, with five pars, and Keith Sanders, with three pars and a birdie, paced the CHS golfers with 40s.

Mark McFadden fired a 41 that included six pars, Jim England used six pars enroute to a 42, and Dave DeFrank fired a 52.

D. Phillips and M. Schilling shot 42s to pace Wehrle.

Next week, the Tigers will travel to London Country Club Monday for a match with Madison Plains. Washington C. H. and Bexley High School golfers will invade Pickaway Country Club Wednesday, and on Thursday, The Tigers will host Greenfield at Pickaway CC.

PCC Ladies Play For Low Scores

Pickaway Country Club ladies played low gross, low net, and low putts during Ladies Day action Thursday.

Low gross winner in A Flight was Betty Dawley. Madeline Sanders won low net and Dottie Smith had the fewest putts.

In B Flight, Dorothy Wardell won low gross, Fran Chelikowsky won low net, and Martee Bushee had the fewest putts.

In C Flight, Betty Danford won low gross, Mary Goldschmidt won low net, and Edith Grigg had low putts.

Davis shifted to fullback, their attack is much more diversified than a year ago. And as for their quarterback, David Humm — I don't think there is a much better player in the country."

Fifth-ranked Alabama squeaked past Maryland 21-16 in its opener last week, and Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant is approaching the Southern Mississippi game very cautiously.

"We got whipped physically last week, and Southern has at least as big and strong a team as Maryland," Bryant observed. "We'll have to get better this week, or we certainly could get beaten."

Nine of the clubs in the Second Ten will see action Saturday, with only No. 13 Southern Cal taking the weekend off.

The schedule: Texas Christian at No. 11 Arizona State, night; No. 12 UCLA at Iowa, day; No. 14 Maryland vs. Florida at Tampa, Fla., night; No. 15 Pitt at Georgia Tech, day; Clemson at No. 15 North Carolina State, night; Kansas at No. 17 Tennessee, night; No. 18 Arizona at Indiana, day; Miami, Fla. at No. 19 Houston, day, and Illinois at No. 19 Stanford, day.

Red China Stands At Historic Crossroads

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

China now has had 25 years of Communist rule and the Chinese People's Republic at this moment obviously stands at a historic fork in its revolutionary road.

For China's 800 million, jolting change may be just ahead. The leaders who founded the CPR still rule it, but they are advanced in years. The time has to be close by when nature will dictate that others take over. Those others now stand in the wings. The evidence points to tense struggle.

The quarter century brought earthshaking changes to China. Yet much remains as it always was. "New" China is old in many respects, as much an enigma as the Middle Kingdom of the distant past.

Who will rule China's destinies after the deaths of giants like Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai? Few except China's own inner circle can do better than educated guessing about what really takes place in Peking's mysterious politics.

On Oct. 1, 25 years ago, Mao stood atop the Gate of Heavenly Peace and gazed down at teeming, hysterical millions of ragged and tired people in vast Tien An Men Square.

From atop the purple wall Mao, then 55 and in glowing health despite the rigors of civil war, proclaimed the People's Republic. It succeeded the shattered Kuomintang regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who fled with his remnants to set up a government on the island of Formosa, now called Taiwan.

"The Chinese people have stood up," intoned Mao, his moon face solemnly benevolent. "Nobody will insult us any more."

Never again, he pledged, would China be abused by the colonial foreigner.

There followed vast purges of "enemies of the people," Peking's entry into the Korean War, political upheavals that toppled stalwart party veterans, a violent quarrel with a Soviet leadership which sought to dictate China's revolutionary future internal struggles that damaged Mao's position, bad crop years, years of natural calamities. All that was prelude to the incredible storm that burst early in 1966, the "great proletarian cultural revolution."

After three years of uproar, terror and wanton cruelty spearheaded by legions of teenage Red Guards, China gasped for breath. Her economy was damaged, her educational system hurt, her party and government structures shredded, her image abroad smeared. Many a luminary had fallen, including the redoubtable Liu Shao-chi, who in 1959 replaced Mao as chairman of government.

The violence subsided in mid-1969 and the ninth Communist congress adopted a new party constitution anointing Defense Minister Lin Piao as Mao's successor. A new central committee was top-heavy with military names.

The cultural revolution seems to have depersonalized Mao, turned him into an institution, a sort of godhead. Nearing 81, Mao retains enormous authority and evidently has been able to enforce a balance that keeps the factions from each other's throats.

Maoist China worries thoughtful outsiders. In possession of nuclear arms, China seems to have a dangerously simplistic view of the world. Her leaders profess to see the United States and the Soviet Union vying for global domination, their detente a "sheer hoax." In the world they see, the superpowers and rich nations plunder the poor Third World which Peking seeks to champion.

Yet Peking describes both "Soviet revisionist imperialism" and "United States imperialism" as paper tigers, seeing America beset by political and economic crisis and the Kremlin running afoul of popular resistance at home and abroad.

Palpably China herself has plenty of domestic trouble, however, and on top of that the political situation appears to have become stickier as the health of 76-year-old Chou declines.

As matters stand, China has no head of government, no minister of defense, no armed forces chief of staff. Many important posts remain vacant in the wake of the cultural revolution and the subsequent shocking purge of Defense Minister Lin Piao.

The deep Lin purge began three years ago. He was accused of a list of crimes including "a wild attempt" to make China a colony of "the Kremlin swindlers" and plotting to kill Mao. Peking says Lin died in a plane trying to flee to Moscow.

A noisy campaign against Confucius, whose 2,524th birthday is Sept. 21, suggests the Lin purge continues, directed at the provinces where Lin's military influence was strong.

"The party must rule the gun" has reappeared as a slogan, as it had before when the military pushed the bureaucracy too hard. But the power picture is difficult to fathom.

In foreign policy, however, there's little prospect in the foreseeable future of China ending her feud with Moscow, and with 60-odd Soviet divisions on the frontier facing China's more numerous but less mightily armed forces, the regime is likely to continue to want its opening to the United States as a counterweight.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Eighth Try For Boy Still 50-50

DEAR ABBY: You should have told "Mother of Eight Dolls" to tell her doctor, who told her, "The law of averages is in your favor, 100 to one," to go back to medical school for courses in genetics and statistics.

Theoretically, no matter how many children of what sex a couple already have, the odds are very close to 50-50 that the next one will be a girl. Before this couple had had any children the doctor could have predicted that if they went on to have eight children, the odds were 256 to one against all eight being girls.

But that isn't the question the doctor was asked. He was asked, "Of all families that have seven girls born already, what are the odds that the eighth will be a boy?"

In summary, the proper prediction to give this couple, if asked for advice concerning an eighth try for a boy, would be, "The normal odds are 50-50, but in your case there may be other factors causing you to bear only girls, so I would have to say that your eighth child is more likely to be a girl than a boy."

SARA K. WEINBERG, CLASS OF 1977 UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DEAR SARA: You belong at the head of the class, which is probably where you are. Congratulations.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I am wrong or right. There was a TV program (a special) I had looked forward to seeing for a long time. I was invited to play cards that night, but declined because I wanted to see it.

About 15 minutes before it was to go on, in came my sister-in-law and mother-in-law! They don't live very far from me, and we see each other quite often. I get along fine with my sister-in-law but my mother-in-law is another story.

I said, "I'll fix coffee, but I so want to see a TV program which goes on in 15 minutes. Please stay and watch it with me?"

My mother-in-law said, "Don't bother making coffee, we can't stay." Then she pulled my sister-in-law by the arm and they left.

The next day my sister-in-law called and said, "For a smart woman, you sure are dumb!" Then she laid me out because I didn't just skip the TV program and entertain her and Mom. I want your opinion on this incident.

BURNING IN BOSTON

DEAR BURNING: I don't know why anyone (relative or otherwise) should drop in uninvited and unannounced and expect to be treated like an invited guest. They should have called first and given you a chance to say, "I'm sorry, but I have plans. How about tomorrow night?"

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl who has been married for two years. No kids. (I lost the baby I was P.G. with when I got married, and can't have any more kids.)

Like most couples, Bill and I have our fights and when we do I call up my folks and mention it, and they drive right down to "rescue" me.

They live 300 miles away, and by the time they get here I've cooled off and so has Bill, but they make me go home with them to think things over anyway. They treat me like a child-not a grown woman.

They're hoping I'll leave Bill for good because they never wanted me to marry him in the first place. He does run around on me sometimes, but he was only 18 when we got married, and I was the only girl he ever had, so maybe he just has to get it out of his system.

I sure wish my folks would quit trying to talk me into leaving Bill. I really love him even though we fight a lot. I feel like I'm being pulled in two directions.

I'm home now, wishing I was back with Bill. I'll take any advice you can give me.

MISERABLE IN KANSAS

DEAR MIS: If you're being "pulled in two directions" you're asking for it whether you realize it or not.

In responding to your calls, your folks understandably think you're asking for help. But if you really love Bill, quit whining to your parents every time you have a fight and get some professional counseling.

Waste In Police Department Seen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Citizens Alliance for a Safer Community protested Thursday to Cleveland Safety Director James Carney that there is waste of time and manpower in the Cleveland police operation.

Its spokesman, Karl Johnson, cited a recent anticrime drive in downtown Cleveland as an example of waste and misdirection and added, "Drunks and prostitutes don't terrorize anybody."

Johnson proposed that civilians be hired as ambulance drivers and to operate the police radio room so policemen would be freed for street work. Mayor Ralph Perk said he agrees with the concept, adding that he has sought federal funds to train paramedics for ambulance operation.

Urge Ohio Lottery Changes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Lottery officials in Ohio and other states are being told by the U.S. Justice Department that they should pattern their operations after the New York system to avoid running afoul of federal laws.

Ohio officials have said repeatedly they feel their operation violates no federal laws.

Lottery officials could not be reached for comment on the report of the Thursday meeting in Washington between Justice Department lawyers and representatives of the Association of State Lotteries.

Federal officials say states which violate federal laws prohibiting the mailing and interstate distribution of lottery materials face a possible law suit.

Ohio Lottery Director John E. Kirkland banned use of the mails completely last week until the Lottery Commission could consider the situation. The commission ordered a return to limited use of the mails this week.

Ohio's latest big lottery winner is 19-year-old Claude R. Holbrooks of Painesville, who came to Ohio recently from South Carolina and walked off with the $300,000 prize in Thursday's Buckeye 300 drawing at Dayton.

Holbrooks, a warehouse delivery worker who has a wife and infant son, said he "never had too much before, but I am going to have something now."

He gets $15,000 a year for 20 years and says he is "going to spend the money wisely."

He wasn't saying what he would spend it on.

Claim Newspapers Doing Good Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most newspapers are far more responsible than reckless and newspeople are more skilled and innovative than ever before, a veteran newsman told an Ohio State University audience today.

"Most newspeople want to do the right thing for their readers," said Associated Press Chairman Paul Miller. "Being human, we often fall short."

Miller, who originally joined The Associated Press in Columbus at 25, spoke at the dedication of the new OSU journalism building.

In his remarks on "Journalism: Responsible or Reckless?" Miller said many readers who complain about newspaper errors have a "conspiracy complex."

"Conservatives may blame the errors on the 'Eastern liberal press,'" he said. "Liberals may blame 'establishment' newspaper publishers."

He said readers rarely forgive even the best of newspaper people for slipping up or just being occasionally lax.

"Even Woody Hayes can blow a crucial call," said Miller, referring to OSU's football coach, "but if the Buckeyes go undefeated, the fans forgive the boner."

Miller, AP chairman since 1963, is also chairman of the Gannett Group, which publishes 51 dailies in 15 states and Guam and is numerically the largest newspaper chain in the U.S.

Miller said that newspaper errors are seldom the result of malice or studied distortion, but more often come from "failure to do the reporting and editing properly through haste, ignorance or a mental lapse."

"All in all," he said, "there are far more right decisions made by able newspapermen every day on any good newspaper than the occasional—and deeply regretted—slips."

Miller said most newspapers are working to get even closer to their readers through such means as action line columns, space regularly set aside for corrections and the creation of ombudsman posts on newspaper staffs.

He also pointed out that more qualified persons are entering the news field than ever before in history.

Still, he suggested, newspapers will always be wrongly criticized.

"There are three things anybody can do better than whoever is doing it—drive a car, coach a football team and run a newspaper," he said.

Corporate Donations Stir Political Fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Democratic Party was asked Thursday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to explain what he said appeared to be contributions from 30 corporations on the party's May primary expense report.

"We feel like we've been sand-bagged," said Mike Lorz, a party spokesman. Lorz said the firm names had been checked with Brown's corporations section first to make sure they were not legal corporations.

"You can have a firm or a company and not be a corporation under Ohio law," Lorz said. Brown agreed, but said it appeared many of the donors listed were legal corporations.

Brown said some of the contributors' names match "exactly" corporation names on file in his office while others "are very nearly, although not exactly, the same as the corporate personnel violating the law."

Brown said Ohio law provides a fine up to $1,000 and imprisonment for one year — or both — for corporate personnel violating the law.

Brown said there was no way to determine if the party had actually checked to see if the firms were legal corporations before they filed the list.

"I can't refute it," said Richard Evans, Brown's legal counsel. "There is just no way of knowing."

Lorz said Brown, a Republican, was pointing the finger at Democrats to take the attention away from GOP gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes' filing of his 1973 "chicken dinner" fund raiser.

Brown earlier gave the Rhodes Luncheon Committee until next Wednesday to come up with an amended filing. He also had given the Democratic Party the same time limit.

Because of what the party termed computer problems, it said in its report filed June 21 that it was actually $6,000 short of actual revenues. It promised an amended filing.

The new filing came late last week, after Brown's order to both the Democrats and Rhodes. Brown said 10 of the firm names were on the first filing and 20 on the second version.

Fatal Crash Reported

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—James K. Proeschel, 20, of Butler County, died of multiple injuries Thursday following a two car crash on Ohio 130 near U.S. 27, police said.

The accident happened during a heavy fog.

Canada's chief economic problem in 1973 was inflation.

Orient Man Hurt In One-Car Crash

An Orient man, Clarence Mullins, 50, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, by the Scioto Twp. squad for treatment of injuries suffered in a one-car accident 10:25 Thursday on Route 104, a half a mile south of the Franklin County Line.

He was charged by investigating State Highway Patrolmen with driving while intoxicated.

Mullins was northbound on Route 104 and lost control of his vehicle, driving it into the right ditch. The car collided with a mailbox before returning to the road surface.

However, it went back off the right side, rolled over once, and came to rest on its wheels in the ditch.

Gasoline Monitor System Scheduled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati, which was unable to account for 600,000 gallons of gasoline out of city pumps in 1973, has awarded a contract for $200,466 to monitor future usage.

City Manager E. Robert Turner awarded the contracts Thursday. The shortages, blamed by Turner on poor bookkeeping, turned up in a survey ordered last winter by Cincinnati Council during the gasoline shortage.

Turner said the new system will require use of employee identity cards inserted into pumps. The identity and gallonage will be automatically recorded on a city computer, he said.

Government Steps Up Farm Loans OAS Debates Continued Cuban Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are beseeching the government for relief and are being told by the Ford administration that at least some helpful steps soon will be taken.

Agriculture Department officials said Thursday that processing of emergency livestock loans will be stepped up and that a hearing will be held in the near future on requests for higher government guarantees for milk.

Producers of cattle, poultry and dairy products are particularly hard-pressed because of soaring production costs, including higher prices for feed because of the drought-reduced harvest this year.

But the main problem still is the country's inflation rate, farmers were told. An estimated 250 or more visited Congress and administration offices this week to seek help.

A delegation of more than 100 producers, led by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., for example, lobbied Thursday on Capitol Hill. Later, through a delegation of eight, the group told Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz they would go broke if the situation does not improve quickly.

An aide said Butz, who earlier in the day saw a delegation of California farmers, did not promise much relief.

But one possibility, announced earlier this week, included a hearing announced by Butz to consider an increase in minimum milk prices under federal marketing orders. Officials said a further announcement on the milk hearing may be made today.

But the problem for cattle and other livestock producers may be much more complicated. Last winter cattle feed lot operators endured losses exceeding $100 per animal. As a result, Congress approved a $2 billion emergency loan program so that individual producers can get federally guaranteed loans of up to $250,000 to help recover.

But farmers said the program is lagging and that USDA has not moved

Claim Rhodes Didn't Keep Promises

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democratic Gov. John Gilligan said Thursday he kept his campaign promises while his Republican opponent, James Rhodes, did not when he held the chief executive's office.

Meanwhile, Rhodes pledged to study the possibility of constructing state office buildings in 10 additional Ohio counties if he is elected governor in November.

Gilligan, speaking in Findlay, said the Rhodes administration from 1963-71 reneged on promises to improve support for public schools and meet the needs of mental health programs.

But Gilligan said his administration has raised expenditures for schools by 88 per cent and increased support for mental health programs by 64 per cent.

Rhodes, in a statement issued by his Columbus campaign office, proposed centralizing state government functions that now are widely scattered.

The 10 counties Rhodes suggested for the study are Butler, Hamilton, Lake, Lorain, Lucas, Mahoning, Montgomery, Stark, Summit and Trumbull.

Ohio Weather
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
General shower activity over Ohio should end in all sections by Friday night, with general clearing and somewhat cooler temperatures expected.

The National Weather Service said a cold front moving into the northwest portion of Ohio after midnight Thursday touched off showers and thunder-showers across the northern third of the state. This front with its associated showers and thundershowers is forecast to move southward over the remainder of the state during the day as conditions improve in the northern areas during the afternoon.

Temperatures were rather mild across Ohio during the night with readings mainly in the mid 60s, but in areas north of the front the temperatures fell into the 50s. The trend to cooler temperatures beginning today will likely continue through the weekend.

forcefully to make it available. It is handled through state and county offices of the Farmers Home Administration and provides that up to 80 per cent of what a farmer can borrow from a banker or other private source will be guaranteed by the agency.

Joseph R. Hanson, deputy administrator of Farmers Home, said the loans were off to a slow start, but he said the delay was mainly due to red tape of the new procedure.

Hanson said only 37 loans totaling

Y Fall Classes Include Specialized Skills, Hobbies

Specialized skills and hobbies for all members of the family will be taught in the new Fall Classes planned by the Pickaway County Family YMCA. Interested persons, members and non-members are urged to register now before classes are filled.

Among interests covered will be "Introduction to Art" and "Exploring Nature Through Art", taught by Mrs. Susan Watts, who is an illustrator for the Ohio Wildlife Department. A small display of her work is now hanging at the Y office.

"Beginning Bridge"; will be taught by Margaret Knox on Monday evenings. This course also has a special rate for couples.

The YMCA guitar program under the direction of Leighton McFerren has developed a program of classes on a continuing basis. Classes are offered for youth and adults, basic beginners through the advanced. These classes will be offered on Monday evenings.

Two sewing courses will be conducted by Marge Wolford. One for the beginner on Tuesdays at the Circleville high school, will include how to fit a pattern, cut, sew and finish a simple garment. The Advanced Sewing class will be given on Wednesday mornings at the Y and will offer completion of an outfit, how to get the professional look in details such as bound buttonholes, pockets, top stitching and such refinements as applying zippers by hand.

Beginning Crocheting by Marge Wolford, will be held on Friday mornings and Tatting, an old-fashioned method of lace making using a shuttle for edgings, doilies and inserts will be taught by Susan Watts.

Local Heart Association Sets Meeting

The Pickaway County Heart Association will meet Sept. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the YMCA. Topics for discussion will include the local association's constitution and plans for a Christmas project.

Any person or organization in need of educational materials which are loaned by the Pickaway County Heart Association may contact Robert Cole or Robert McKelvey for information.

less than $5.9 million had been committed as of Sept. 13. The law was signed by President Nixon in mid-July.

However, Hanson said the loans are being processed by field offices and that "we don't know how much is in the pipeline" there. He said procedures have been worked out and that loan approvals are expected to increase soon.

A congressional opponent of the loans, Rep. Peter A. Peyser, R-N.Y., said he had been told by Agriculture Department officials that "virtually no applications" were pending.

Peggy Dean can help you "Learn to Type" on Tuesday evenings at Circleville high school. This course will also be helpful to those wishing to "brush up" their typing.

"Crafts for Fun", to be instructed by Linda Halcoussis, will offer boys and girls ages 3 and up, finger painting, cutting, pasting, clay modeling and other hand crafts.

A full range of instruction in baton twirling will include pre-school and beginning baton to be offered on Wednesdays at the Lutheran parish hall taught by Anne Frericks, field commander for the Circleville Tiger Marching Band. Advanced Twirling and Specialties will be instructed by Rhonda Vinyard, formerly featured twirler with the high school band in Independence, Mo., now a resident of Circleville. She will also assist Mrs. Bev. Hanley in working with the Y Drill Team.

The Cheerleading classes will be instructed by Mrs. Judy Cook, physical education teacher at Huntington School in Ross County. Two classes will be conducted on Saturdays, one for girls in fourth, fifth and sixth grades and a second for older girls.

Registrations are now being taken for these classes at the YMCA office. All interested persons are urged to register in advance because all classes not having ten persons or more registered will be cancelled.

Drivers Charged In Wrecks

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies cited two persons involved in accidents on county highways.

Thirty-three-year-old Robert A. Schofield, Chillicothe, was arrested, by Deputy Billy Huffman, for driving while intoxicated, when he wrecked his vehicle, 1:50 a.m. today.

Schofield failed to heed a stop sign at the intersection of Route 22 and 56. Traveling through the intersection, the vehicle went into the side of a house, bouncing back striking several trees and two non-licensed autos.

Schofield and Sue Ann Caulette, 25, Houston, Texas, both refused treatment for minor injuries.

Roy E. Williams, 29, Clarksburg, was cited for speed unreasonable for conditions, when he was involved in a single-car accident, 6:20 a.m., Thursday, on Route 138.

According to the report taken by Deputy Dan Dewey, Williams failed to negotiate a curve at the intersection of Judas and Thompson and 138, went left of center, coming to rest in a ditch. No injuries were reported.

The earth's total surface area is about 197.2 million square miles, of which the land makes up only 57.2 million square miles.

OAS Debates Continued Cuban Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The permanent council of the Organization of American States (OAS) is continuing debate on the Cuba embargo after a three-hour session on Thursday produced strong sentiment for overturning the policy.

The permanent council will vote today or Saturday on a proposal to call a November meeting of OAS foreign ministers in Ecuador to take final action on the issue.

The representatives who addressed the council on Thursday found a broad range of reasons for ending the 10-year-old ban on trade and diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Argentine Foreign Minister Alberto Vignes, whose government is one of seven in the OAS which has violated the embargo, said the sanctions are a source of hemispheric friction. Costa Rican Foreign Minister Gonzalo Facio said the embargo is an anachronism in the era of East-West detente.

Mexican Ambassador Rafael de la Colina said the sanctions violate international legal concepts. Peruvian Ambassador Luis Alvarado said the question of relations with Cuba should be determined not by the 22-member OAS but by each nation on its own.

The sentiment for a new Cuba policy was not unanimous. The representatives of both Chile and Uruguay accused Cuba of continuing intervention in the internal affairs of Latin American nations.

The U.S. delegation, which has traditionally supported the sanctions, sat silently during the day's proceedings.

Ford Speeds Political Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is stepping up his personal political pace, as aides schedule up to 25 presidential speeches across the country in the two weeks before the Nov. 5 congressional elections.

Ford made his first appearance at a fund-raising banquet of the current political season on Thursday night, driving to suburban Alexandria, Va., to plug for the re-election of Republican Rep. Stanford E. Parris.

The appearance before a cheering crowd at the suburban country club came as his political planners confirmed an expansion of Ford's campaign travels.

In addition to his already-announced October appearances in such states as Kentucky, Indiana, Vermont, Pennsylvania and Michigan, officials said the late-October trips will carry Ford from the Carolinas to California in behalf of individual candidates or slates of GOP nominees.

The schedule being developed for the last two weeks of October tentatively includes some days when the President will make from three to five stops in as many states.

Ford goes to Detroit on Monday to address a world energy conference, and follows up the next week with non-campaign appearances Oct. 2 in Provo, Utah, and San Francisco.

His schedule takes on a more political flavor in mid-October with GOP fund-raising appearances in several states.

While the late-October schedule is still tentative, aides confirmed that Ford will make an appearance in South Dakota on Oct. 16 and in the Greenville-Spartanburg area of South Carolina on Oct. 19.

on a one year time deposit

9% annual interest for a deposit of $20,000 or more. At Capital Savings and Loan a subsidiary of Capital Financial Services, just keep it on deposit for one year. (If you withdraw it sooner, you'll be paid 5 3/4% annual interest, compounded semi-annually.)

Interest can be paid monthly at your request—otherwise, it will be paid quarterly. Or added to your account and compounded quarterly. And you'll earn it from the date of deposit to the maturity date. With no Ohio intangibles tax to pay.

So start earning 9% interest. Now. With us.

Kick the tires if you like, but checking out our service is more important.

We're convinced that International's Loadstar is one of the finest trucks you can buy. But rather than tell you about it, we'd like you to find out for yourself. Stop in the next time you're nearby and check it out. But more important, don't forget to check out our service. We've got great mechanics, 24-hour parts service, financing to fit your needs. To us, taking care of you after you buy is just as important as selling you in the first place. Stop in any time. We'll be happy to sit down and chat for awhile. We'll even talk trucks.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You can advance through association with those who stimulate your thinking and imagination — especially if aims and objectives are mutual.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Be hasty in neither word nor deed. Day has pitfalls which you can avoid if you are on guard at all times.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): An average day which can be made much brighter, more meaningful with a little extra verve on your part. Get out and "mix." Some exciting new contacts possible.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Your ability is an acknowledged fact, so don't try to impress through showmanship. It would only alienate others.

LEO (July 24 to Sept. 23): Launching into uncharted seas may take you further than expected, into waters too deep for comfort. Check before going beyond your depth.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A stimulating day! Stars give new impetus to all worthwhile undertakings. Go forward confidently toward all immediate objectives.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Take only the short cuts which common sense dictates. In general, you will have to put in extra effort to make this day's activities shape up better, faster.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Don't listen to what "they" say when you have reason to believe the source is questionable. Stress your good judgment and foresight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): An average day, if you are content to leave it at that. But, if you are ready to accept challenges, it holds the nucleus of fine achievement and new opportunities to reach higher objectives.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Get the other fellow's point of view before making final decisions. You may be pleasantly surprised at the new perspectives you gain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Be flexible, but not easily turned by every wind that blows; eager to take new steps forward, but not at the cost of future losses.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A fine day! You may be the recipient of special favors, tokens of good will or other unexpected benefits.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, great imagination and the stamina and persistence that are invaluable to research and scientific investigation. You would make an excellent physician or educator, but may prefer one of the arts as a career. If so, you could succeed especially in the theater, as a writer or music composer. Your diplomacy is outstanding and you could also become a top-flight statesman. Birthdate of: H.H. Wells, historian, author; Girolamo Savonarola, Ital. reformer; Henry Stimson, U.S. statesman.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR

is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
